Immaturity Of Wealth

A bit of news makes one think of the "Texas money" which for the past several years has been so much in the news.

"Newport Casino," where for 75 years the nation's society summer colony has gathered to bask in the sun, to dance, hear concerts, watch lawn tennis, drink cocktails and stage costume balls, reportedly is on the verge of folding. Decision will be made Monday.

It is important only in that it illustrates that the old order does indeed change, yielding place to new. There will be no more than a handful of mourners for Newport. What it represented died a long time ago.

In a very real sense Newport represented the immaturity of wealth and a lack of any concept of how to use it, save in idleness and somewhat pathetic striving for exclusive luxury and "fun."

Its very origin was immature.

In 1879, a British polo player, guest of a member of New York's then exclusive men's club, the Reading Room, fell to drinking with friends and admirers and the talk came to be about the captain's sensitive and well-trained polo ponies. It was suggested the captain's ponies were so obedient to the touch of his hand on the bridle they would go anywhere, even up the steps into the club.

Origin

Another round or so, and this took on the shining aspects of a fine idea. So, they did it. They fetched one of the ponies and the captain rode it up the steps, in through the door and into the clubroom.

This led, reportedly, "to the consternation of the members," who were aroused from naps in their deep chairs to see a polo pony in the lounge with a drunken and merry captain on its back.

Indeed, their consternation was such that a majority voted to withdraw the captain's guest card. This set James Gordon Bennett, the New York newspaper publisher, into a state known as high dudgeon, he being a vain and ruthless man who wished to be thought of as royalty and as a member of British society.

Bennett pulled out of the club, purchased three and a half acres of land, and formed the Newport Casino. Certain of his friends of equal, and greater wealth, went with him.

Newport came to be the center of the nation's "400."

For several decades the Newport set dominated the society pages. Someone was always marrying, or buying, a shabby Italian or French title. There were always those who made the page one headlines to the great distress of those who made the social page headlines.

Change

More than anything else the "Newport" set, at the Casino and in those resorts where they went for the winter, made the nation turn away from the purely "society section" in its newspapers. The ridiculous posturing, the extravagant and reckless waste of money on weddings, debutante balls, and in fantastic costume balls helped speed the income tax and a general realization that such immaturity and inability to use wealth was a bad idea. It also speeded the newspapers of the nation toward women's pages in which legitimate social events are reported, but which properly give most of their space to housekeeping, care of children, cooking, dressmaking and so on.

Today, American capitalism is unique. It has given the profit dollar a social conscience. It has never adopted any socialism, but it has blended into the capitalistic system certain techniques such as the public school system, soil conservation practices, old-age pensions, care of the crippled, blind, and others, which contribute to the welfare of people. Therefore, it survives and the people who live under it recognize it as the best system for a free people.

Today, the "Texas money," which has supported almost every fascist-type political candidate and many of the most reactionary and dangerous figures in American life, is the only irresponsible, preposterous wealth left. If it doesn't attain some maturity of character and action, it, too, will speed its own demise. The people will tire of it.

Debt Ceiling Boost Of $6 Billion Wins Approval of Senate

By JOHN D. MORRIS
New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—The Senate approved today a temporary $6,000,000,000 increase in the United States national debt ceiling, now fixed by law at $275,000,000,000. The action was by unanimous voice vote.

The bill now goes back to the House, which approved President Eisenhower's request for a $15,000,000,000 permanent increase in the debt limit a year ago. The Senate Finance Committee shelved the measure at that time but revived it last week in response to new pleas by Secretary of Treasury Humphrey.

BILL AMENDED

Humphrey, modifying the administration's original request, proposed a permanent rise of $5,000,000,000 plus a temporary advance of the same amount. Instead, the finance committee amended the bill to provide for a ceiling of $281,000,000,000 until next June 30. The House is expected to accept the change, proposed as a compromise by Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va).

The temporary $6,000,000,000 rise is designed to carry the Treasury through the seasonally lean tax collection period that ends about Jan. 15.

"MORTGAGED TO HILT"

Byrd called on the administration to reduce spending sufficiently to make unnecessary another increase in the debt limit.

"The $275,000,000,000 federal debt which we now owe," he told the Senate, "is equivalent to the full value of all the land, all the buildings, all the machinery, all the livestock—everything of tangible value—in the United States. We are mortgaged to the hilt.

"Few will deny that we have reached our solvent limit."

Actually, he declared, Congress should be reducing the debt instead of increasing it.

"If we cannot balance the fed-

Threatened By Bowen, Hand Says

By GENE BRITTON

Georgia's politics increased to a throbbing tempo Friday as Fred Hand said he had been threatened by former liquor czar John Horace Bowen.

Hand charged that Bowen, who has been linked with the administration of former acting Gov. M. E. Thompson, encountered Hand in an Atlanta hotel and warned him to "lay off."

(Other political stories on Pages 13 and 15.)

"He told me in threatening terms to lay off him and intimated that it would be best for me to do so," Hand said. "I told him I had the goods on him and intended to expose him and the people he is backing."

PROMISES FULL DETAILS

Hand said Bowen admitted a pre-campaign conference with Thompson and former Gov. E. D. Rivers. Bowen also admitted owning an interest in Rivers' radio stations, Hand declared.

The House speaker promised to give full details of the incident in a speech at Canton Saturday and on a WSB-TV appearance Monday night.

Gov. Talmadge does not plan to endorse any candidate in the gubernatorial campaign, close associates of the chief executive said Friday night.

This information from sources considerd highly reliable came as rumors spread through political headquarters that Talmadge would publicly announce his support for a candidate Saturday or Sunday.

The governor has steered clear of endorsing any candidate for governor. He has repeatedly hit all efforts to draw him into the race. His friends said Friday night that he does not plan to make any choice publicly.

WOULD ASK FUNDS

Meanwhile, Charlie Gowen, in a statement, said he would not "hesitate to ask the General Assembly for additional revenue" should it become necessary to maintain state services and avert a prospective deficit.

In Jefferson, Duluth and Buford, he continued fierce attacks on Thompson and Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin.

After disclaiming support from Bowen Thursday night, Thompson returned to criticism of his opponents for "mud-slinging," He said their responsibility is as great as that of the governor.

He repeated his promises for improved education and aid to cities and towns.

ANOTHER PAPER

Another newspaper endorsed the former acting governor's campaign Friday. The Gainesville Daily Times—supporting a candidate for the first time in its seven-year history—said in an editorial that Thompson comes closest to the standards required for a governor.

In Blackshear, Griffin called for development and conservation of resources in the state and kept up his attacks on Atlanta newspapers.

The lieutenant governor, too, added another newspaper to his list of supporters. The Fleming News, a community newspaper in Augusta, endorsed him.

Agriculture Commissioner Tom Linder Friday carried his bid for support in the gubernatorial race to south Georgia. He told crowds in Ashburn and Nashville that he will step up his campaign with "big news" on a statewide radio hook up Saturday.

Yep, He Says Hot Over Weekend

Clear skies will favor politics, picnics or what-have-you over the weekend, the weatherman promises.

Official forecast from the Atlanta Weather Bureau calls for mostly fair and continued hot Saturday and Sunday in the north Georgia area.

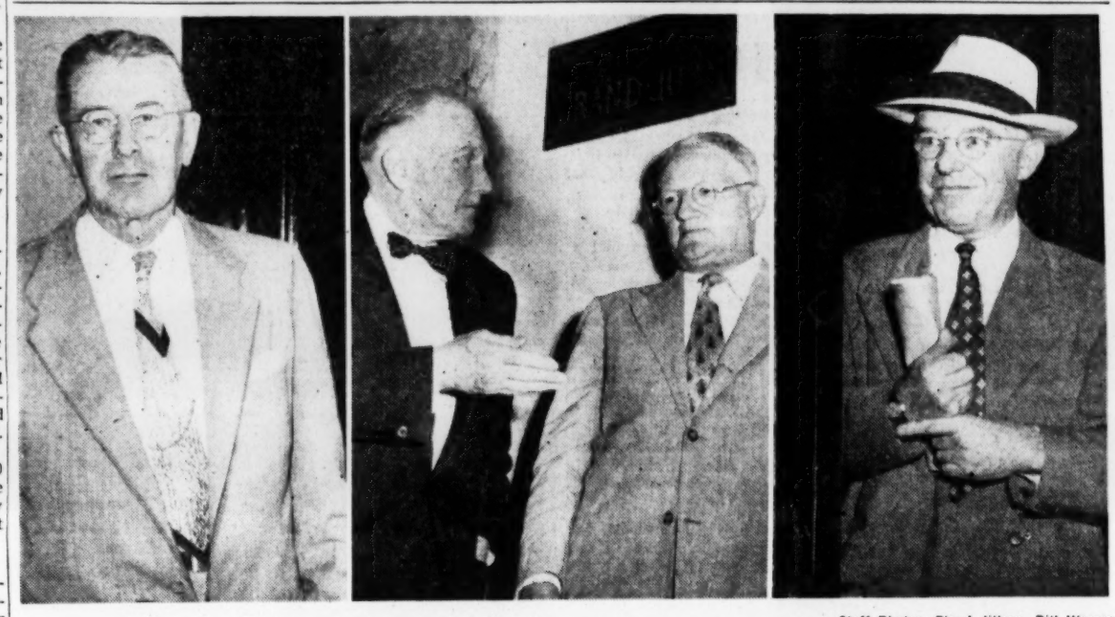

Both days the range of temperature readings will be between 94 and 72. Extremes Friday were 96 and 71.

His 26-Ct. Rope Buy Ties Up Victim, $100

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 13 (AP)—A man walked into a Knoxville service station early today, bought 26 cents worth of rope for stringing fish, then pulled a gun and took $100.

The rope wasn't wasted, either. He used that to tie up night manager Edward Easterday.

Foreman Accuses Hartsfield Of Trying To Bulldoze Jury; Mayor Charges Smear Drive

Mayor Calls Schukraft Political Foe

Edgar E. Schukraft, foreman of the Fulton County Grand Jury, Friday night charged Mayor William B. Hartsfield tried to "bulldoze the grand jury" while being questioned earlier in the day about his plan for a municipal court.

Mayor Hartsfield replied in a statement that he had "reminded the jury that Schukraft ran as an independent" against him in 1946 and that he was "boasting all over town that he would use his position as foreman to smear me and the city."

FOREMAN'S STATEMENT

Schukraft's statement follows:

"Mayor Hartsfield asked to be heard and the Grand Jury invited him to appear at 11 o'clock Friday. We listened respectfully for over an hour and a half and no questions were asked. And he then presented his plan for a municipal court. In connection with this plan, I asked a question about recent action of his recorders court in releasing a group of gamblers with fines of only $30 each. He resented this line of questioning and began a bitter tirade against me.

"PERSONAL ATTACK"

"It's a sad day in Fulton County when the mayor of a great city like Atlanta comes down to the courthouse and tries to bulldoze the Grand Jury and make a personal attack on its foreman. In my opinion, the public will resent abuse by a public official of the Grand Jury or its officers, especially while they are preforming their duty in inquiring as to governmental affairs.

"We believe our drive against a vicious type of gambling—slot machine gambling—in Fulton County and in Atlanta has the backing of all law-abiding citizens. I believe Mayor Hartsfield owes to the Grand Jury and its foreman an apology for his unwarranted and contemptuous remarks."

The mayor's statement follows:

"I had intended to respect the privacy of the Grand Jury but this unusual attack makes certain disclosures necessary. The truth is that the foreman has been attacking me and the city govern-

Senate Kills Conference Atomic Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Senate spurned a last-minute plea from President Eisenhower today and rejected a compromise version of his hotly debated atomic energy bill.

The action, taken on a 49 to 41 roll call vote, returns the measure to a Senate-House conference committee for further compromise efforts. It further dimmed hope for quick congressional adjournment.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Senate floor manager for the bill, warned in advance that such action would kill the bill, which is high on the President's list of "must" legislation.

Originally hammered out in a stormy 13-day Senate talkathon, the measure is designed to foster a new domestic atomic power industry, permit freer atomic exchange with U.S. allies and open the way for Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan.

Foes of the compromise version insisted, however, that it would result in an atomic power monopoly. They said an acceptable bill could be agreed on within a few days if House members would accept Senate provisions.

Immediately after rejecting the compromise, the Senate approved a request for a new conference committee to consider the issue. Senate members were instructed to insist on the Senate version of the legislation.

Two Democrats—Sens. J. William Fulbright (Ark) and Harry F. Byrd (Va)—joined 39 Republicans in supporting the compromise. The five Republicans voting against it were Sens. John Sher-

Formosa Will Fall, Chou Tells Hordes

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai told his Red China millions today they will capture Formosa, island refuge of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, and warned the United States to stay away.

Interference, Chou said, will bring grave consequences.

Chou said U.S. support of Chiang's Formosa regime not only infringes on "our territorial integrity and sovereignty and interferes in our internal affairs, but also increases the threat of war in the Far East and heightens international tension."

Chou's threats were in a foreign policy statement to the People's Government Council which was broadcast by Peiping radio and monitored here.

Declaring the taking of Formosa was "the glorious historic mission of the Chinese people," Chou warned:

"If any foreign aggressors dare to prevent the Chinese people from liberating Taiwan (Formosa), if they dare infringe upon our sovereignty and violate our territorial integrity, if they dare interfere in our internal affairs they must take upon themselves all the grave consequences of such acts of aggression."

In Washington, officials shrugged off Chou's remarks as part of Red China's war of nerves against the Nationalists.

Georgia Won't Receive Any Drought Aid Now

Despite crop losses estimated at more than $100 million and two urgent appeals to President Eisenhower, Georgia will not get any federal drought assistance at this time.

Congressman J. L. Pilcher of Meigs Friday informed Gov. Talmadge that while no official announcement has been made, he was advised of the denial of aid by H. A. Dahl, assistant to the director of the emergency drought relief program for the Agriculture Department.

However, Rep. Paul Brown of Elberton said he did not regard the department's failure to act as a final decision on Georgia.

FURTHER STUDY

"Officials informed me," he said, "that they will continue to study the state situation and may even request additional information. For this reason I do not consider that Georgia has been finally rejected."

Pilcher said he will continue to insist that the emergency board review Georgia's situation further.

Gov. Talmadge, reached at his home in Lovejoy, said he had received no communication from the President regarding drought assistance for Georgia.

"The laws authorizing federal aid for drought areas are on the statute books," the governor said. "The federal agency investigating drought conditions in Georgia reported some counties will make only 10 per cent of their normal crop and that the pasture condition is only five per cent of normal.

"If these conditions don't warrant drought assistance, then the laws should be removed from the statute books because they are totally ineffective."

WINGATE REACTION

Informed of reports that the state will not get any federal drought assistance now, H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau Federation, said:

"If that is the case and they've turned us down, I feel that many of our farmers will not be able

Club Brings In 10 Slots Voluntarily

An unidentified club Friday night voluntarily surrendered 10 slot machines valued at $20,000 at police headquarters. Officials of the club previously had contacted Sol. Gen. Paul Webb and worked out details of bringing in the machines.

Shortly before 11 p.m., two Negro men driving a black pickup truck entered the driveway at headquarters. "Where you want these," the driver asked a policeman. "We was told to bring them here."

Police Chief Herbert Jenkins and Supt. James F. Brown, who took charge of the machines, said the two men had been employed to transport the machines and did not know which club they belonged to.

Jenkins said the machines would be dumped into the blast furnace at a local steel mill as were eight others seized Wednesday in county-wide raids.

Is $450 Art A Da Vinci Worth Million?

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—An interior decorator said today he bought for $450 a painting which he believes is the "lost" and priceless original of Leonardo Da Vinci's "Madonna and Child."

Hanns Heichert, 53, said he bought the painting at a small New York gallery last spring and that Maurice Goldblatt, director of art galleries for the University of Notre Dame, placed on it a theoretical value of $1,000,000.

Goldblatt was said to have examined the work and declared it to be the original Da Vinci masterpiece.

But other experts, here and in New York, told of the find, were skeptical. They said they doubted that such a masterpiece would go undetected for centuries.

Senate To Pay Lawyer for McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The lawyer who represents Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in the forthcoming Senate investigation of McCarthy's official conduct will be paid out of government funds.

This decision was announced today by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the special committee which is scheduled to start hearings Aug. 30 on moves by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) and others to censure McCarthy.

McCarthy had suggested that the Senate pay his lawyer. He also called on the Legislative Reference Service to look over the precedents —the history of cases in which other members of Congress have been given counsel in election contests and other proceedings.

Watkins said the decision to provide McCarthy with a lawyer—of his own choice—has the approval of both Republican and Democratic Senate leaders and Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), chairman of the Rules Committee.

McCarthy didn't say what lawyer he would pick. The expectation was that he would name Edward Bennett Williams, a Washington attorney who has represented him in the past.

The Senate voted $30,000 to the Watkins committee Wednesday to carry on the new McCarthy inquiry. Watkins told reporters the six-man committee has agreed part of the money should be used to hire McCarthy a lawyer. "We haven't set aside any specific sum," he added.

Spy Crackdown Nets 2 at Geneva

BERN, Switzerland, Aug. 13 (AP). The government announced today the arrest of two men in a crackdown on a spy ring that operated during the Geneva Far East conference.

A federal police spokesman said the spies worked for a "nearby foreign power" with the mission of carrying out political espionage during the conference that resulted in an Indochina truce.

The case apparently was considered to be one of great importance because the Swiss Federal Cabinet was scheduled to consider it next month when it returns from vacation.

The two men, identified unofficially by the initials "G" and "R," were arrested "some time ago," the police spokesman said.

'Prize' Ex-Soviet Spy Wins Asylum in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The State Department revealed tonight that Yuri Rastvorov, missing Soviet diplomat-spy, has asked and received asylum in the United States so he can "live like a decent human being."

The 33-year-old former member of the dread MVD Soviet secret police has given America details of Russiain spying in Japan. He was considered the finest prize to fall to the West since Igor Gouzenko broke with the Kremlin and exposed a Russian atomic spy network.

Rastvorov appeared at a dramatic news conference at the State Department. It was his first public appearance since he disappeared in Tokyo last January to escape orders to return home to Russia.

Russia has charged that U. S. agents "kidnapped" Rastvorov.

But Rastvorov himself denied it. He told in moving words the cruel life he—and others—were forced to live in the Soviet Union. He said when he saw how people lived in "free" lands he resolved to leave "forever a fatherland which the Communists had turned into a concentration camp."

Rastvorov disclosed that "medium high" Japanese officials have given intelligence reports to Soviet agents. He also said Soviet agents have tried to get information from American servicemen in the Far East—but had failed.

Rastvorov readily admitted he was a member of the dread MVD Soviet secret police and had been spying for Russia in Japan in the guise of a diplomat.

The 33-year-old Russian told reporters he had been in the United States almost from the day he broke with the Russians in Japan. He said he flew to the United States but he would not tell where he had been in this country.

Increased Social Security Benefits Voted by Senate; Sent to Conferees

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Senate tonight approved legislation broadening the scoial security system and increasing benefits, giving President Eisenhower most of what he requested.

The bill approved would extend old-age insurance coverage to nearly 7,000,000 persons not now covered, and make general increases in retirement benefits.

The measure, passed by voice vote, now goes to a House-Senate conference committee to compromise between the versions passed by the two chambers.

The principal differences involve the extension of coverage. There was no difference between House and Senate over the new benefit scale, which was approved just as the administration requested.

Benefit increases will go to about 6,500,000 persons now on the rolls as well as to those retiring at age 65 in the future. For those already retired, the increases will range from $5 to $13.50 a month and average about $6.

For a single retired person, the president minimum benefit of $25 will go to $30.

Under present law, the maximum monthly benefit for a single person is $85 and for a married couple, both over 65, $127.50. The bill fixes the new top figures at $108.50 and $162.80, respectively.

For persons earning over $3,600 a year, the measure also means a payroll tax increase beginning next Jan. 1. Whereas the present two per cent tax on employer and employe applies to the first $3,600 of annual earnings, the bill increases the tax base to $4,200. This change means that for persons earning $4,200 or more, the total payroll tax for a year would go up from $72 to $84 on employer and employe.

No further increase in the payroll tax rate is scheduled until 1960.

Mendes' Army Pact Aim Costs 3 Gaullists

Other Ministers Approve Proposals for Modified Plan

By HAROLD CALLENDER

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

PARIS, Saturday, Aug. 14—Premier Pierre Mendes-France lost three Gaullist ministers early today as a result of his decision to try to get the European Treaty ratified in modified form.

But the remaining ministers approved the proposal for changes in the treaty that the premier had drafted for submission to the foreign ministers of the five other signatory states at Brussels next week, according to a statement the premier made when the cabinet meeting broke up at 12:30 this morning.

TEMPORARY POSTS

The ministers who resigned this morning were Gen. Pierre Koenig, Minister of Defense; Jacques Chaban-Delmas, Minister of Public Works; and Maurice Lemaire, Minister of Reconstruction. They were replaced temporarily by three men already in the cabinet who will double their portfolios for the present.

Three other Gaullist ministers remaining in the government—Henri Ulver, Minister of the Budget; Christian Fouchet, Minister for Tunisia and Morocco; and Diomede Catroux, Minister for Air. Their decision may be affected by tomorrow's meeting of the Gaullist group in the National Assembly, who bear the name of Social Republicans. The group met yesterday and reasserted its opposition to the treaty.

The premier proposed to make the treaty dependent upon United States and British defense policy by providing that any member state might withdraw from the treaty if United States and British troops were withdrawn from Europe.

NEW VERSION

This was a new version of the proposal submitted by former Foreign Minister Georges Bidault at the Bermuda conference last December, that United States and British troops should be withdrawn only with France's consent.

The presence of thees troops has been insisted upon by the French Assembly as a guarantee against possible independent action contrary to the treaty by a rearmed Germany.

The premier would also link the European army more closely with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by providing that the European Army Treaty should run for the same length of time as the North Atlantic Treaty. This would respond to the French desire to insure that France should not be allied with West Germany in a military pact if ever she ceased to be allied with the United States and Britain.

55,000 Idle As Firestone Joins Strike

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 13 (AP)—More than half the workers of the nation's "big four" rubber producers stayed away from their machines today as plants in 16 cities lay idle.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. counted 25,500 out in the strike that began at midnight last night. Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. had 30,000 out in the walkout that began July 8.

Both companies met with United Rubber Workers Union (CIO) representatives in Cleveland today but reported "no progress." They scheduled further meetings for Monday.

TALKS CONTINUE

B. F. Goodrich Co. and United States Rubber Co. talks in Cincinnati and in New York continued, with their workers on the job on a day-to-day basis. A URW spokesman here said today there was "absolutely no truth" to rumors that Goodrich workers were about to quit their jobs.

Goodrich has 18,000 workers in nine plants and United States Rubber has 35,000 in 19 plants.

All four companies have offered wage raises of five cents an hour. The union is asking an undisclosed amount, but believed to be about 10 cents, plus "even more important" contract changes.

The changes include a seniority clause to provide for layoffs and recalls, an improved method of handling grievances and permission for the union to set up its own safety committees.

IDLE PLANTS

Firestone plants idled by last night's strike are at Akron, Ohio; Los Angeles, Calif.; Des Moines, Iowa; New Castle and Noblesville, Ind.; Pottstown, Pa.; Fall River, Mass., and Memphis, Tenn.

Closed Goodyear plants are in Akron, Los Angeles, St. Marys, Ohio; Muncie, Ind.; New Bedford, Mass.; Topeka, Kans.; Jackson, Mich.; Windsor, Vt.; Gadsden, Ala., and Lincoln, Neb.

Compromise On Farm Bill Due Today

By WILLIAM M. BLAIR

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—Conferees of the House and Senate said tonight they expected to reach a settlement by tomorrow afternoon on the administration's farm bill.

It appeared that the major issue of an increas in dairy supports was all that remained as a stumbling block to completing action on differences between the versions passed by the House and Senate. There were no predictions on how the dairy support issue would be settled as both sides remained adamant in their views.

The House voted to increase dairy supports to 80 per cent of parity, five points above the 75 per cent level set by Secretary of Agriculture Benson on April 1 to aid in the fight against added surpluses of butter, cheese and dried milk which are piling up in federal storage under the price support system.

The Senate beat down attempts by the bipartisan block to raise the dairy support in the bill that gave the administration a victory in the hot fight for the flexible farm price support system.

Rep. Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan) and Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) indicated that everything was out of the way except the dairy support level.

Cigarette's 'Johnny' Alive; Stand-In Dead

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—"Johnny," Philip Morris' famous, diminutive bellhop, announced today he is still alive after his family received hundreds of messages of condolence from grieving friends.

The report that Johnny was dead resulted from the death in Grand Rapids, Mich., of Anthony Boris, who served as Johnny's understudy for eight years. Boris died yesterday at the age of 39.

The original "Johnny," Johnny Rovestini, has been under a lifetime contract to the cigarette concern since 1933 and indicated today he was still very much alive.

Ike Has Key To Anti-Red Bill--Halleck

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Republican leader Charles A. Halleck clearly indicated today that President Eisenhower holds the key to whether the House will consider the Senate-passed bill to outlaw the Communist Party.

The Indiana Republican told a reporter the House will be asked to take up another in a series of anti-subversive bills on Monday, but added he still is uncertain whether it will be the bill to outlaw the party.

He left little doubt, however, that the House will be asked to approve the outlawry bill if Mr. Eisenhower passes along word that the wants the measure included in the administration's anti-Communist legislative package.

85-TO-0 VOTE

Proposed by the Democrats, the bill was whipped to passage by the Senate last night by a unanimous roll call vote of 85 to 0. The measure, a combination of two separate proposals, also would crack down on Red-dominated labor unions and business firms.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., testified in opposition to the proposal as recently as April 12 on grounds it would drive the Communists underground and make it harder for the FBI to keep tabs on their activities.

At Thurmont, Md., where the President was holding a weekend outing with his cabinet, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said he did not want to comment on the Senate action until Mr. Eisenhower gives him instructions.

NO INDICATION

Brownell was one of the President's guests, but there was no indication whether they discussed the bill.

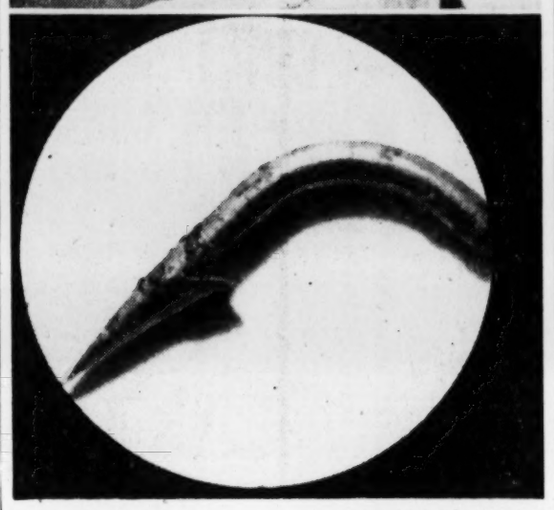

The measure declares that the Communist Party is not a "political party" but "an instrumentality of a conspiracy to overthrow the government." Persons convicted of "knowingly, willfully and intentionally" remaining in the party would face up to five years in jail and $10,000 in fines.

The administration had sought less drastic anti-subversive measures, including authority to use wire-tap evidence in spy and treason cases, immunity from prosecution for witnesses who give evidence on subversive activities and new legal weapons against Reds in labor unions and business.

Aide Says Guatemala To Prosecute Arbenz

By PAUL P. KENNEDY

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—Jacobo Arbenz, former president of Guatemala, will be tried on criminal charges if and when the new Guatemalan government gains custody over him, Lt. Col. Luis Cruz Salazar, new ambassador to the U.S., said today.

Cruz in his first news conference here discounted the authenticity of a Mexico City dispatch in which the Guatemalan ambassador to Mexico was quoted as saying his country would grant safe conduct to Arbenz who is now in political asylum in the Mexican embassy in Guatemala City.

The former president, Cruz said, is classified by his government as a Communist and as a criminal. His classification as a criminal, the ambassador said, arises from charges of large-scale looting of government funds from the national treasury by the Arbenz regime.

Lt. Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, president of the governing Guatemalan Junta, has declared that the national deficit left by the old regime was between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000, most of which he attributed to looted funds.

The approximately 770 political refugees in embassies in Guatemala are being divided into three classifications, Cruz said: Communists, political non-Communists and criminals. He was asked whether it was certain Arbenz was a Communist. "I think he is a Communist," Cruz replied, "because only a Communist would let Communists do the things he let them do in my country."

RedCrossOkayed By Reds on Relief

BERLIN, Aug. 13 (AP)—Communist authorities agreed today that U.S. aid for East German flood victims would be handled by the Red Cross.

They suggested early consultations in Berlin on the distribution of the food offered by President Eisenhower and accepted by the Reds a week ago.

Arabia Tells U.S. To Halt Assistance

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Saudi Arabia has told the United States to discontinue its foreign aid program in that country, it was learned reliably today. It is the first such instance in the history of the aid programs.

The Foreign Operations Administration is already preparing to withdraw its 30-man mission which has been operating in the country since 1952.

Informed sources said several factors entered into the Arab kingdom's decision to end the aid relationship, including probably the prevalent feeling in Arab countries that the United States has done more for Israel than for its neighbors. Furthermore, Saudi Arabia, with an estimated 200 million dollars annual oil income, feels it can manage its own future development.

The aid extended by the United States, under the technical cooperation (formerly the Point Four program) consisted largely of helping train personnel and organize govenment agencies to handle the booming government income. A Central Finance Agency was set up with American guidance and various customs and related laws were redrafted.

Intelligence Officials Mum on John's Visit

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Dr. Otto John, West Germany's renegade security chief, paid a five-week visit to the United States shortly before going over to the Reds and was dined and greeted by some top U.S. intelligence officials.

While reluctant to talk about John's visit, officials said it is unlikely he got any valuable secret information here — at least not through official contacts with U.S. experts.

There was general reluctance among government agencies involved to discuss the visit, or to take responsibility for sponsoring it.

COME DOWN

State Department Press Officer Henry Suydam told newsmen in reply to questions today that the department did not sponsor John's trip here. Suydam said the German came to this country on his own—as far as the State Department is concerned. He acknowledged that John talked to department officials while he was here.

As pieced together, the story of John's visit appears to be this:

John, after planning his visit for more than three months, arrived in New York May 19. On the night of June 7, Allen W. Dulles head of the top-secret Central Intelligence Agency, entertained John at a small private dinner at his Georgetown home here.

John was escorted on a short tour of the FBI to view exhibits open to tourists. The FBI's lukewarm attitude might be traced to previous reports, understood to have been received by government agencies, that John drank excessively and often talked too much.

On June 10, John went to the State Department shortly before noon to confer with five officials in the office of German affairs.

COURTESY CALLS

About the same date the German official, who went behind the Iron Curtain on July 20, was invited to the Defense Department. A defense spokesman said, "as is customary" with foreign officials John's schedule included "courtesy calls" on military representatives. The spokesman said John was given "routine unclassified (non-secret) briefings on organizational matters . . . similar to those given to representatives of friendly powers during such protocol visits and did not cover intelligence matters or operational techniques."

No government agency was willing to take responsibility for John's visit here, or to acknowledge that U.S. funds were used for the trip, though some officials said this is the case.

His trip presumably was arranged to acquaint him with life in this country and to obtain firsthand information on security affairs in Germany.

Portuguese Colony Braces For Pro-India March

NOVA GOA, Portuguese India, Aug. 13 (AP)—Portuguese authorities in this seacoast colony surrounded on three sides by Indian territory speeded defense preparations today against a threatened Gandhi-style "liberation" invasion Sunday.

Armed police sealed off all border areas facing India and restricted entry to those with special safe conduct passes. Loudspeakers along the Indian frontier warned trespassers to stay out of Portuguese territory. Troops moved into position to back up police and civil defense forces.

TOURS BORDER

Gov. Gen. Paulo Bernard Guedes toured the border with top aides. Paper stickers plastered on the windshields of nearly all automobiles and buses said in Portuguese, "Out with the invaders" and "Defend our country, long live Portugal."

(This dispatch passed through Portuguese censorship, as does all copy from the colony. The censors delete statements they interpret as critical of Portugal.)

Pro-Indian nationalists picked Sunday to stage their march on Goa because it is the seventh anniversary of Indian independence from British rule. Indian Prime Minister Nehru gave his blessing today to plans for the march in a New Delhi speech, laying down only one condition — that the marchers stick to India's professed principles of nonviolence.

CARRY ONLY FLAGS

Leaders of the Sunday invasion have announced they will enter Portuguese territory unarmed, carrying only Indian flags. This technique of "passive resistance" was employed frequently by followers of Mohandas Gandhi during the Indian freedom movement against British rule.

Nehru said the Indian army could, if it wanted, take over Portuguese Indian territory "in a trice." But he added that "we do not want to use the army and will not."

Contending that Portugal's 1,538 square-mile West Indian holdings would inevitably merge with India, Nehru declared that "India cannot prevent Goans from expressing their feelings about the merger and cannot interfere with Goans going" to the Portuguese areas

Mountain Plunge Kills 19 on Bus

AUBENAS, France, Aug. 13 (AP). Nineteen persons, mostly teenagers, were killed today when an excursion bus filled with vacationing youngsters careened down a mountain road and plunged 100 feet into a river after the brakes failed.

Another 26 youths were injured in the Friday the 13th accident. Police said the ages of the victims ranged between 15 and 20.

The brakes failed as the bus drove through the spiny mountains in southeast France between Nimes and Lyon.

Seek Vacationer Bitten by Cow Suspected Rabid

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 13 (AP)—The Florida Highway Patrol is hunting a vacationing tourist to warn him that the cow which bit him back home may be infected with rabies.

Indiana State Police at Putnamville, Ind., and the sheriff of Morgan County, Ind., asked the Florida patrol to put out a pickup order for Ray Vickery and warn him to report to the nearest hospital for a checkup.

The message from Indiana said Vickery was bitten by a cow before leaving home for a vacation at some unknown Florida point.

American Chef, Waiter Get High Greek Award

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 13 (AP)—A railroad chef and a waiter have been awarded one of Greece's highest honors for serving that nation's King and Queen "plain American food," it was revealed today.

The golden medal of the Royal Order of George I was bestowed on Edgar Hopkins, chef, and John Sheppard, waiter aboard the New Haven Railroad's luxury car, the "Yankee."

Hopkins cooked for King Paul and Queen Frederika when the royal couple toured America last fall in the private car.

9 Communist Leaders Convicted Of Plotting Against Government

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13 (AP)—Nine regional Communist Party leaders were found guilty in federal court today of conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the U.S. government.

A jury of seven women and five men, deliberating nearly nine hours, convicted the defendants of violating the Smith Act of 1940. The verdict was reached after a 51-day trial, longest ever held in the U.S. district court here.

All nine defendants face individual penalties of five years imprisonment and/or $10,0000 fines.

There was no display of emotion when the verdict was announced nor when each juror was polled individually on each defendant and the word "guilty" was uttered 108 times. After court was dismissed, the men sat in a group and smiled for photographers, but refused to talk to newsmen.

Defense Attorneys Thomas D. McBride and Joseph Lord moved for a directed verdit of acquittal or a new trial. Judge J. Cullen Ganey said he would consider both motions at arguments on Sept. 9. He has the power to set aside the jury's verdict.

The jurors began deliberating at 2 p.m. (EDT) yesterday and at 9:30 p.m. were locked up for the night in a hotel adjoining the federal building. U.S. marshals imposed a news blackout so the jurors would not learn of the U.S. Senate's vote to outlaw the Communist Party.

Deliberations resumed at 9 a.m. today and the verdict was reached at 11:45 a.m. There was a 45-minute delay in announcement of the verdict to enable an ill defendant, Walter Lowenfels, 56, to travel from home to the courtroom.

Besides Lowenfels, former Pennsylvania editor of the Daily Worker, the defendants were: Joseph Kuzma, 41, whom the FBI described as trade union secretary for the party in eastern Pennsylvania; Sherman Labovitz, 29; Thomas Nabried, 51; Benjamin Weiss, 39; Irvin Katz, 35; Robert Klonsky, 35; David Davis, 46, and Samuel Gobeloff, 44.

Kuzma and Klonsky have been free on $20,000 bail each, while the others have been free on $10,000 bail each. When the verdict was announced, U.S. Attorney W. Wilson White asked Ganey to set higher bail and to impose sentence immediately. He denied both requests.

Immediately after the verdict was announced, the Pennsylvania Civil Rights Congress charged the trial was "a frame-up" engineered by the U.S. Department of Justice "whose galaxy of paid stool pigeons wove the lies around which the frame-up was built."

Judge Ganey, in his charge to the jury, said the trial was of great importance to the defendants and to the nation "because the charge made against the defendants strikes directly at the heart and vitals of sovereignty as well as the orderly process of change provided within the Constitution of the United States."

'Smear,' Mayor Replies to Jury Chief's Charge of 'Bulldozing'

ment throughout the jury sessions. Finally I asked to be heard. According to other members the foreman tried to prevent it. They voted overwhelmingly to hear from me.

"I then appeared and told them the city would respect their presentment about slot machines and commended them for their forthright action. I then endeavored to answer the various smears made by the foreman about the conduct of the airport, the granting of liquor licenses. His statement that I resented questions about the municipal court's handling of cases is a complete falsehood as the other grand jurors know.

"What he did was to make a slurring accusation that I had appointed James Webb as judge and intimated it was for some ulterior motive. This attack was a little more than I could stand and I then reminded the jury that Mr. Shukraft was the next-door neighbor of my perpetual opponent for mayor; that he himself had run against me for mayor as an independent candidate in 1946; that he had tried to have his property on Cascade avenue zoned for business and was furious over being turned down, and that he was boasting all over town that he would use his position as foreman to smear me and the city."

Ed Gilliam, chairman of City Council's police committee; John Marler, vice chairman, and Jesse Draper, committee member, who is also chairman of the aviation committee, made separate appearances Friday before the grand jury.

Schukraft indicated the officials discussed operations of the city and answered queries on the "liquor situation" as the jury inquired into whisky, beer and liquor licenses.

Schukraft emphasized again Friday that club managers should follow the lead of the West End Golf Club, whose officials told police where their machines were stored.

The foreman also commended the East Point's Mayor Al Roberts and Police Chief W. H. Tyler for their cooperation in the slot machine clean-up drive and added he thought it is the duty of every citizen who knows where slots are hidden to report their location to police.

Discussing appearance of the mayor and councilmen, Schukraft said the jury also asked questions about operations of the Atlanta Airport.

In other developments Friday in the jury's slot machine war an order was signed by Fulton Criminal Judge Luther Alverson authorizing destruction by Hapeville police of nine slot machines seized there. East Point police destroyed 43 machines Friday under an order signed Thursday.

Meanwhile, an East Point American Legion official, William Ivey, was bound over to Fulton Criminal Court under a $1,000 bond on a slot machine possession charge. Ivey was represented in East Point Recorder's Court by F. R. Breen.

In a previous hearing, Ivey was represented by J. R. Parham, an assistant attorney general. Parham's appearance brought a warning from Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook that assistant attorneys general are not allowed to handle legal affairs other than those of the State Legal Department.

Drought Aid For Georgia Now Is Out

to operate another year. Many herds of cattle will be forced on the market because hay is not available and the farmer has not the finances to buy it with.

"I cannot understand why our own people who are really and truly in disastrous circumstances cannot get some assistance from our government when we are appropriating billions of dollars for relief in foreign countries.

"It disturbs me very much to think we will not get some relief immediately."

The Georgia Department of Agriculture late in July said that at a "conservative" estimate, drought damage to Georgia crops has been more than $100 million dollars.

Gov. Talmadge made his first appeal to Eisenhower early this month at the request of the Georgia Milk Producers Cooperative Assn. Producers at a Macon meeting reported most pastures were ruined by the drought and reported an acute shortage of feed.

CROP SURVEY

The first request for federal aid was for feed grains which could be purchased from government-owned stock at low prices.

Acting on that request, the U.S. Department of Agriculture had a survey made under the direction of R. L. Vansant, Georgia director of the Farmers Home Administration.

Just last Tuesday, the special committee named by Vansant reported that at least 110 Georgia counties should be declared drought disaster areas because of acute feed shortages. The committee said areas where crop and pasture yields were at least 75 per cent of normal were not considered disaster areas.

PRODUCTION ESTIMATES

As that report was released, Talmadge sped another appeal to the President, this time for disaster and emergency loans to farmers facing financial ruin because of the drought.

Meanwhile, the Crop Reporting Service of the Extension Service reported Georgia farmers will average only about 12 bushels of corn to the acre this year as compared to 20 bushels last year.

Senate Okays Boosting Debt Lid by $6 Billion

eral budget and reduce the debt in peace and better-than-normal prosperity, when can it be done?" he demanded. "The temporary authority to exceed the permanent debt limit should not be renewed. The administration can prepare the next budget so that renewal will not be necessary. This is what should and must be done."

Sen. Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo), chairman of the finance committee, predicted, however, that "further review" of the question of raising the ceiling would be necessary next year.

He was supported by Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga), who voiced hope that this would only be a temporary rise but added:

"I do not think we should be too optimistic about it."

The debt subject to the statutory ceiling now stands at $274,100,000,000 and will go over the $275,000,000,000 mark by Dec. 15, according to Treasury estimates.

PERMITS CASH BALANCE

Without allowing for any cash reserve, it is expected to reach a high point of $2,100,000,000 above the present ceiling on Jan. 15 before starting to taper off as higher tax collections bring reductions. The new temporary limit would thus permit the Treasury a cash balance of $3,900,000,000, which is $600,000,000 less than the minimum Secretary Humphrey says is necessary for business-like operations.

Since the big corporation and individual income tax payments are due between Jan. 15 and June 15, the Treasury estimates that it will be possible to reduce the debt to about $273,600,000,000 by June 30 and still have a cash balance of $4,500,000,000.

But the government will again face the problem of getting through the lean July-January tax collection period without going over the limit.

The debt stood at $267,300,000,000 when the Eisenhower administration took office in 1953. While annual budget deficits have been reduced since then, expenditures have continued to exceed revenues, requiring additional borrowing.

Publisher Hits Critics With Praise

Jere M. Moore, publisher of the Milledgeville Union-Recorder, answered criticism with praise in his editorial columns this week after a dispute with Baldwin County commissioners over the commission's refusal to adopt grand jury recommendations calling for the abolition of the county police office and other measures.

In the Thursday issue of the paper, Moore praised the 33-year record of Commissioner O. M. Ennis. The issue also carried a signed letter from Ennis and Commissioner W. F. Williamson attacking Moore for the paper's criticism of them for not sanctioning the jury's recommendations that the police office be abolished, minutes of each commission meeting be published, and that the courtroom be air conditioned and supplied with an amplifying system.

In the signed letter, the editor was charged with either being "badly misinformed" or "deliberately misstating the facts." The letter charged Moore "for some time . . . very busy trying to run the affairs of the county and apparently not knowing just what to do."

Moore was told:

"Either get in a position to administer the affairs of the county or confine yourself to your own business."

The letter claimed that abolishment of the police office would cost the county a great deal in lost revenue. It also pointed out that steps had already been taken to improve the courtroom facilities prior to the jury recommendations.

Moore told The Constituttion that his paper was supporting the effort to abolish the police force and office of county attorney. He said Mrs. Eva Sloan, county attorney and wife of county policeman Bob Sloan, wrote the letter criticizing him, "and I don't know how she got Mr. Ennis to sign it."

Mrs. Sloan denied writing the letter.

Senate Rejects Compromise Atomic Bill

man Cooper (Ky), Henry G. Dworshak (Idaho), William Langer (ND), George W. Malone (Nev) and Milton R. Young (ND).

Eisenhower denied the bill would create an atom monopoly. He said he had examined it carefully and believed it would not hurt the nation's rural electrification cooperation program. He said protection of REA is one of the "basic and important principles" of his administration.

He added that if atom power becomes an economic source of electricity, REA cooperatives "should and will have protection as preference customers." He said the bill "adequately provides" for such protection.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) accused Majority leader William F. Knowland of trying to "doctor" the bill. He predicted the power "interests" would insist on keeping the compromise language.

George, dean of the Senate in point of service, said he considered today's action "the most important vote I will cast in this session."

Studebaker Labor Shows Maturity

Along about 1850 John Studebaker loaded his family into a wagon he and his boys had built and moved them west from Pennsylvania. It was a good wagon, "a bear for travel and a devil for taking the hard knocks."

The Studebakers set up in northern Indiana, at the south bend of the St. Joseph River, to make more wagons. Able artisans and skilled financiers, they built a wagon business that survived wars and panics. From wagons they turned to the manufacture of motor cars, good cars worthy of the Studebaker label.

Always the Studebaker corporation has got along well with the workers, never a serious strike. Wages have been good and other employe benefits generous. The auto workers at South Bend have been getting $2.39 an hour as compared to $2.03 in Detroit.

In recent months Studebaker has found the financial going rough. As an independent competing with the giants of the auto industry, the company took a more than $8,000,000 loss in the first seven months of 1954. Studebaker has been selling cars below cost to meet the competition.

Company officials became convinced they must cut back production costs to stay in the game. Top executives reduced their own salaries by 25 to 30 per cent. A pay cut hurts no matter where it comes.

They laid the cards on the table before the United Auto Workers, South Bend leadership, and asked that labor take a 10 to 15 per cent cut. The UAW officials studied the facts and agreed to the justice of the proposal.

Last week the union membership rejected the proposal, 3 to 2. The company said it was sorry, but the plant must close in 60 days unless the wage reduction was made. Studebaker couldn't take a million-dollar-a-month loss, even after more than a century in wheeled vehicle manufacture.

Thursday the Studebaker workers voted again. This time 8,000 out of the 10,000 union membership were present instead of the less than half that turned out last week. This time they saw the picture more clearly. They voted, 8 to 1, to accept the cut. Even after the reduction, the Studebaker pay will compare favorably with that anywhere else in the industry. And there will be more work.

The decision at South Bend is significant.

The verdict was that of mature, responsible working men who realize their own welfare is tied up directly with the solvency of the company.

Leaders among the employes of the B&O Railroad showed the same awareness a few months ago when they put out a pamphlet urging each employe to become a salesman for the road. "Our jobs depend on how much business the B&O does," the union leaders advised. "Get out and use every chance you get to sell shippers on using our railroad."

In a complex society the interdependence of management and labor stands out. You can't keep biting the hand that feeds you without leading sooner or later to a total amputation.

Let British Laborites Take Look Back Stage

Having been wined and dined and flattered in Moscow, Britain's Laborite delegation now goes to Peiping in Communist China. The so-called "good will" pilgrimage, headed by Clement Attlee and Aneurin Bevan, is giving headaches to the free world and propaganda grist for the Communists.

The trip is being used, as was expected, to further disrupt relations between the United States and Britain and to further weaken Western influence in Asia. It is a device, too, to weaken and destroy the Churchill government in Britain. The Communists know the Laborites' lack of sympathy with the United States and they'd like to have them back in power.

The invitation to Britain's labor party leaders had a definite purpose, and that's for sure. The visit of these world-known leaders, hat in hand, to Communist headquarters adds prestige to Moscow and Peiping in the eyes of all Asia.

The Economist, influential British newspaper, gives the British delegation a bit of advice. It warns them not to be satisfied with the Communists' prepared displays, but to insist upon seeing other aspects, such as "comrade tribunals" trying a worker accused of sabotage.

The paper asks them to study workers' living conditions, the forbidding of secondary education to children in order that they may pass directly from primary school to work bench, Peiping's political and budgetary emphasis on militarism and armaments, and the disappearance of all those who dare oppose the Communists publicly.

The current Communist campaign of sweetness and light, accelerated each month since Malenkov succeeded Stalin, is accompanied by a continued buildup of Communist military strength. There's no evidence anywhere that the Reds have abandoned the Lenin doctrine of world conquest.

Man's Leisure Moments By Far Are His Finest

Where would we be without leisure?

It's the thing that has let man raise himself as high as he has above the animals. It's also the thing that is responsible for a lot of the world's troubles.

The busy man has little time for thought and contemplation. He lives, but he doesn't invent. It is in his leisure moments that man speculates, and from man's imagination have come the good things of life. From leisure the arts have sprung; philosophy, and the rules that make existence a little gentler. When there is no urgency to keep his stomach full man can gaze at the stars, or over the sea, and catch faint reflections there of a world outside his physical needs.

Leisure probably began in a cave with the first of our ancestors who found he was a meal ahead of the game. What to do? He probably figured out then a way to stay two meals ahead of his appetite. At that moment man began his climb from cave to penthouse.

Leisure has been the father of nearly all beauty. It is responsible too for washing machines, automatic transmissions and television. Leisure abused is the parent of evil, but leisure's good far outweighs the bad.

Leisure? There's nothing so pleasant or as good for a man. Even though some poorly informed ones insist on calling it laziness.

Municipal Theater Owes Debt to 'Bromo' Seltzer

With the performance tonight of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," the Municipal Theater Under-the-Stars closes a highly successful season. This success, in fact, points up the possibilities of a really important future for this activity in Atlanta's civic life.

Atlantans have proved they will support an outdoor summer theater if the shows are good, if they are well presented and if the cast is capable. With that proof behind us, the job ahead already has been outlined. Experience shows that mediocrity will not be accepted.

Many people have contributed to success of this year's season. Many should be singled out for their hard work and cooperation. Inquiries as to who has been most responsible bring many answers. Most everyone agrees, however, that the season would not have been possible without the voluntary services of one man. He is Maurice B. Seltzer, known to all his friends as "Bromo."

This well-known Atlanta businessman was the first president of the theater. He continued to serve in that capacity this year. He has organized its work and has supervised its every activity. He helped to select the shows and the casts and has given the Municipal Theater his constant attention for the past two years. He secured the services of the most capable director, Eric Mattson, for this year's shows.

Lavish with his praise of all others connected with the effort, Mr. Selzer has been most modest about his own contribution. But in this, as in the many other major civic projects to which he has given his time, Mr. Seltzer's efforts have been rewarded with success. The Municipal Theater and all Atlanta are most grateful. His unselfish service will result in pleasure for many thousands in the years to come.

Hawkinsville Weekly Acquires New Owner

John C. McCune, experienced newspaperman who for the last several years has been editor of the Valley Times-News at West Point, has entered the ranks of Georgia publishers. Mr. McCune has bought the Hawkinsville Dispatch and News from Edwin Methvin of Eastman.

In assuming management this week the new owner of the Hawkinsville weekly announced two laudable objectives: being a good neighbor and putting out a fine newspaper, dedicated to the best interests of the community it serves.

The Constitution extends the hand of journalistic fellowship to the Hawkinsville pulisher. With it go our best wishes in his new venture.

Reds Ignore Laws of Both God and Man; Brand Them Criminals, Savannahan Says

Savannah — The Reds have no respect for the laws of God or man. By all manner of brutal crimes against decency and humanity they strive unceasingly to impose their tyrannical rule over all the peoples of the world.

Measured by any accepted moral and ethical standards the Red leaders are criminals. Peaceful co-existance with criminals is unthinkable. If attempted, it would be the same Red wolves masquerading in sheeps clothing.

It seems plain to see that there will be no real or lasting peace unless and until the forces of good unite and in one voice brand the Reds as criminals and proceed to treat them accordingly, by denying them the privilege of meeting on equal terms with nations of integrity and good will. These acts in defense of decency and freedom might lead to war. Whereas continued appeasement could lead to chaos and end in slavery.

These are the magic conditions confronting mankind today. The stakes are the highest. The risks are the greatest. Fateful conditions which pose a question. Survival of free peoples rides on the answer.

How will the free nations meet the challenge? God grant America's answer shall be worthy and will not be too long delayed.

GOP Tariff Policy Follows a Pattern

Washington, Ga.—I hope you will continue to hammer at the administration for raising the tariff on watches. One has only to check back on the Republican tariff policies for the 12 years following World War I to observe some of the causes of the depression that followed and the dislocation of our trade with the rest of the world.

I also notice cheaper prices for food and this, of course, is because of lower prices to the farmer. This is all in the pattern of Republican policies, which gradually dry up our economy, of nurturing the American manufacturers at the expense of all the others.

He'd Cure Alcoholics With Jail Sentences

Lebanon—My remedy for alcoholics is thirty days in jail for the first spree of four days or more without a fine, and double for each spree thereafter to the fourth, and then one year in the gang. And that without a fine.

The idea of coddling a drunkard and calling him "a sick man" and patting him on the back and sending him to a good hospital to be bathed and treated with the best of booze to sober him up so he can be able to go out and get on another at state expense doesn't appeal to me. I'd like to see my remedy tried for one year.

Kind Deed Pleased The Child's Mother

Atlanta—One cannot help but be moved when acts of kindness are shown in such an unkind world.

We stood waiting for a city bus in front of a public building. We were tired and worn out from the intense heat. My little girl sat in the doorway of the building.

A gentleman opened the door, and not observing the child, stumbled over her. Some tears came to her eyes. The gentleman expressed his regret and went on his way.

In a few minutes he returned, knowing that he had not made a physical hurt, but an emotional one, gave the child a dollar.

We need much more of this type of kindness in the world. Wouldn't it be a much better place in which to live?

U.S. Has the Tools at Hand To Stall Red Peace Offensive

In the Christian Science Monitor

WASHINGTON—Ten years ago, just about now, newspaper headlines carried the electrifying, elating news and the Allied armies had staged their Normandy "breakout." A fantastic general by the name of Patton was about to lead his Third Army panzers on an end run across France, and Paris was soon to be liberated; the Axis, at long last, was reeling in defeat; and American hopes for a world of peace and justice were riding high.

Ten years later, the picture differs. Despite a national policy of say-nothingism, the news percolates that the Soviet Union will have developed intercontinental guided missles in six years. H-bombs are piling up on both sides of the line. The free world has retreated in Indochina and the United States suffered a defeat at Geneva. On some days we find ourselves incapable of leading, or even persuading, our allies.

What is wrong? We are living through a time of test and challenge, a time of reassessing our own American world attitudes. But nothing is amiss, surely, that cannot be remedied.

The Soviet Union, is talking coexistence and negotiation and Locarno. And what are we talking? Well, the world knows what we are "against"—that we are against the evils of communism. But it is beginning to forget what we are "for."

Cannot the Eisenhower-Dulles-Wilson team lift their pronouncements out of the dead level of mediocrity—as the President did in his atom speech to the United Nations, and in his comments on American leadership in this week's press conference? Why not talk enthusiastically about the "Atlantic Community" of nations once more? One reason Europe welcomed NATO in 1950 was because it seemed to promise a splendid renaissance of the Atlantic Community and an association wherein Germany and France could heal their ancient bitterness. But what Congress now seems mainly interested in, when discussing NATO or EDC, is how soon those 12 German divisions will become available.

We need to recognize that governments laboring toward currency convertibility, and hoping to avoid a full surrender to Soviet trade blandishments, are watching every American gesture which raises or lowers a brick on the tariff wall. We need to realize that an aloof refusal to welcome the views of non-Communist Asian leaders seems too often an echo of colonial attitudes.

The misunderstanding can be corrected, if there is a will to do so. Our honest-broker services in effecting the Suez agreement between Egypt and Britain show how excellent, and persuasive, American policy can be when we follow our natural inclinations for freedom, fair play, and friendship.

We don't need to be mesmerized out of our natural inclinations, either by fear of intercontinental missiles or by overconcern with internal subversion. American leadership, at its best, has always derived from the liberating talents of courage and compassion, put to use. They are still right at hand.

No Need Now To Pass Salt

The $150-a-week housewife is about to be relieved of an arduous duty, filling the salt cellar. Late this month one of the nation's big salt companies is going to put on the market ready-filled shakers. They'll come in family size and also smaller for him who likes a salt cellar that is exclusively his own. One of the least expensive items in the family budget today, salt has not always been thus. The price came down only after men started going to the salt mines in large numbers and with modern machinery.

In ancient Rome, salt was hard to come by and so valuable that the help was paid off in the precious stuff. (Along the Tiber a salt seller was something else.) From the custom comes the word "salary" meaning "salt money."

In the Dark Ages, so called because it was knight-time, the honor seat at the table was next to the table salt. That's why the table in King Arthur's dining room was round, so each knight was equidistant from the cellar in the center.

The Blight Got The Mimosa Tree

You don't worry much when the lawn grass dies beneath the summer heat, for you know that a little water, and the scattering of a few seeds, will bring it back to green again. But with a tree it's different. You come home from being away and find a tree has died, and it's a troubling thing. And you wish you'd stayed there, so you could have watered it, or called in the tree people to give it nourishment when it first showed signs of being sick. But once it's gone, there's nothing you can do.

The one I lost this summer was a big mimosa that stood by the brick terrace in the back yard. And it wasn't the drought that got it, but some sort of blight, that made the leaves curl as they do in the evenings when the sun goes down. But the next morning, when the light strikes they don't open up again. They just turn brown and fall.

It had grown up, in a way, with the family. When we first moved out there, when all the neighborhood around was still in woods, Mama planted it there at the edge of the terrace, a slim sprig of a tree about five feet tall. But it grew fast, throwing out its branches helter skelter. And kids played in it, and fell out of it and skinned their knees on the bricks below, and hung swings from it. It was a brittle tree, and they were always breaking a limb off, that had to be sawed and smoothed.

But it kept growing, pushing its branches up to shade the windows of the rooms upstairs from the morning sun. It became a great hangout for the birds. We hung feeding boxes about over it, and spring and fall, in the times of the great migrations, and all the summer long, the birds were there. It was a kind of civic center for the birds. They didn't nest there. They just came there to visit and preen their feathers, and gossip with each other and sing.

It was a fine tree for squirrels, too. It lay on the direct route from the big oak in the front yard, over the roof top, to the young oak in the back yard, to the tall pine that stood at the edge of the woods. It was a regular highway for the squirrels, and every few minutes one would come by, bound on some important business.

Now it stands stark and sad and leafless, and the morning sun pours in the windows it once shaded, heating the house in the mornings like a furnace. And there's nothing much to be done about it, I guess, but to take the ax and cut it down, and dig up the stump, and put another mimosa where it stood. But it takes 16 years or so to get a mimosa tree up any size, and that is a long time.

The same birds won't be here when the tree is grown again, nor the same squirrels. And the kids will be grown up and gone, and nothing will be quite like it was. And I think I am going to just leave it alone for awhile. Just let it stand there, bare and dead for a season. And maybe, come next spring, it will feel a surge of life from the warming earth and the long spring rains, and come back again, to cast its pleasant shade and make a happy resting place for the birds and the squirrels and me.

To Love Means Essentially To Give

When the late Senator Tobey was questioning a witness during the crime investigation, he asked, "Realizing what America has done for you, what have you ..ever done for America?" The witness, who was unwilling to answer most of the questions, did answer this one. In a faltering, hesitant manner he said: "Well—I pay my taxes."

Have the rest of us done more for America than merely to pay taxes? There are too many who believe that they owe America nothing and that America owes them everything. As though America ought to feel it to be a special privilege to have them as citizens!

Rollo May in his stimulating and helpful book, "Man's Search for Himself," says: "We receive love —from our children as well as others—not in proportion to our demands or sacrifices or needs, but roughly in proportion to our own capacity to love." He adds, "To love means essentially to give," and he quotes Spinoza who said that truly to love God does not involve a demand for love in return.

Christians worship at the foot of a cross on which Christ died because He loved man. Christ did not bargain with men, saying, "If you love me, I'll die for you." There would have been against the dark clouds of history no brilliant Cross of hope and faith had Christ promised His death upon such a bargain. "To love means essentially to give." John 3:16, sometimes called "the Gospel in a single verse," does not read: "For the world so loved God that God gave his only begotten Son," but rather, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son."

This marks the difference between human and divine love. Human love always counts the cost and grows or perishes in proportion to demands or sacrifices or needs. Divine love is marked by the capacity to love and to give of oneself, regardless of whether that love is reciprocated or not.

A mother loves her little child even before the child is old enough to understand. She gives her life for the child. She will continue to love even if the child never responds with love of his own. Divine love on a mother's part does not demand love in return. But usually the mother receives love not because she expects the child to love her but because her capacity for love makes her completely lovable.

Long generations of Christians have loved Christ not because He demands their love but rather because His capacity to love is so great as to make Him irresistible to those who turn to Him in faith and also because so great a love has made His disciples more lovable. "We love Him, because He first loved us" (1 John 4:19).

When we learn aright to love God—or America, we do not bargain nor "count the cost." Our lives become living sacrifices of devotion and love.

Peachtree Pentagon Is Federal Beehive

"Little Washington" is at the corner of Peachtree and Seventh streets.

There, in the Peachtree-Seventh Building, one will find eight floors of U.S. Government employes and services. The diversity of the agencies operating there is—to use a 24-cent word where a 98-cent one is required—amazing.

The directory in the lobby of the modernistic brick building lists 87 different, or partially different, government agencies. At the top of the roster is the Agriculture Department, with 16 sub-headings listed in its embrace. These subdepartments include such agencies as the Farmer's Home Administration, the Forest Service, Cotton Branch Marketing Research, and "Audit, Office Of."

After the Ag Department comes the Army Audit Agency with two sub-listings. And there's the Federal Power Commission, Regional Office, and Commerce, Department of. The Defense Department is represented by one sub-head, the Armed Services Textile and Apparel Procurement Agency.

This could go on for some time. To shorten matters, one might say practically the entire government is there, including such important functions as public health and social security.

"Right at" 2,000 persons work in what one occupant laughingly referred to as "Pentagon on Peachtree."

Catching one of the five elevators to the eighth floor, I found myself at the door of one branch of the General Services Administration, the division charged with supervising a car-load of governmental housekeeping operations.

In this particular office of the GSA, I found W. W. Barron, an extremely pleasant gentleman, who is Director of the Business Service Center of the General Services Administration. He explained that the Peachtree-Seventh Building didn't come under his office, but that he would be glad to help me.

The building itself is under the supervision of the Real Estate Division of the Public Buildings Service of the General Services Administration. The Public Buildings Service is responsible for the repair and maintenance of about 500 government buildings in the seven southeastern states.

A call to the Real Estate Division revealed, in answer to a question, that the Government's lease of the Peachtree-Seventh Building costs $476,701 yearly. That figure doesn't include operating expenses. Uncle Sam takes care of all services, everything from elevators to window-washing, and there are a lot of services required in a building with 362,684 square feet of floor space.

Mr. Barron's office, the Business Service Center, an offshoot of the main office of the General Services Administration, is concerned with aiding businessmen in their business transactions with the government contracts and purchases, etc. But that's another story.

Peachtree and Seventh simply won't fit into a single column.

The House of Odds

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 — This was the Minneapolis line. It was short—about five feet six—wrapped in a neat brown suit, white shirt and silk tie, and wore horn-rimmed glasses. It was Drake University, class of '33, and it spoke with the glib tongue of a medicine man.

Wilton H. Banyard," he said. "Here, have a card."

The card read: "Athletic Publications, Inc., 201 Gorham Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn." This is the address of the House of Odds.

Bisher

You ride downtown on the bus on a fall morning. A friend says, "How many points they giving Georgia this week?" You pull out a little green, or brown, or red card and you read down to where it says how many points they're giving Georgia and you tell him.

"They" is Athletic Publications, and Athletic Publications is the cardiac region of football gambling in this country, and basketball, and all other such athletic affairs in which it is possible to speculate in advance with confidence. This was this man, this Wilton H. Banyard.

"I am the line," he said, with emphasis on "I."

"Tell me about all these spies you have spotted on the campuses," I said. My fascination with the subject wasn't faked. This was like meeting "the man upstairs." This was the guy who determines each autumn who should do what to whom by how much.

"Spies?" Wilton H. Banyard said. "There are no spies, believe me. These are my spies," he said, waving his arm in the direction of some college publicity men standing near. "And I don't mean by that that I buy information from them. I am on their mailing lists for the same material you and every sports editor gets in his office. They cooperate with me simply by mailing me their releases.

"Spies?" I've heard those stories. It's a joke, really, when you see how simple and unmysterious this operation really is."

—No Mystery, No Cloak and Dagger

"Suppose, then," I said, "that it's Thursday afternoon and the star halfback at Kansas State gets hurt in scrimmage and is out of the game. How do you find that out? What can you do then?"

"The answer is: I probably don't, and in the long run it really won't make too much difference, anyway, because most of the rest of the country doesn't know it, either. How many times, really, have you seen it happen, that the star gets hurt and some fired-up reserve takes his place with an even better performance? It'll happen many times, for you see, the defense was set for the star, but it is relaxed for the reserve.

"This idea of some mysterious agent rushing to the telephone and calling Minneapolis the moment some player is injured, that makes me laugh. That's just the imagination of people who aren't satisfied without attaching mystery and intrigue to anything that's foreign to them.

"You want to know who makes those odds? Three men, for whom I collect all this information. I publish the Green Sheet, our little tout paper. My boss is Leo Hershfield, who owns Athletic Publications. I've worked for him for five years. I'm a sports nut. I saw Dempsey fight Tunney in Philadelphia. I saw Grover Cleveland Alexander, drunk as he was, strike out Tony Lazzeri in that World Series.

"I love this stuff. Why shouldn't I be an authority in this field just as a member of the stock exchange should be an authority on the fluctuations of the market?"

—He Sees Minnesota's Home Games

He stopped for a breath, and then came back with a for-instance.

"Take the game of Pitt and Penn State in November, for instance. You can rate that one right now just as well as I can. Penn State should be the favorite by two and a half to three points. That takes no great genius. There are plenty of guys writing sports who can rate them just as well as I do. I just happen to make a profession of it."

"How many football games do you really see a year?"

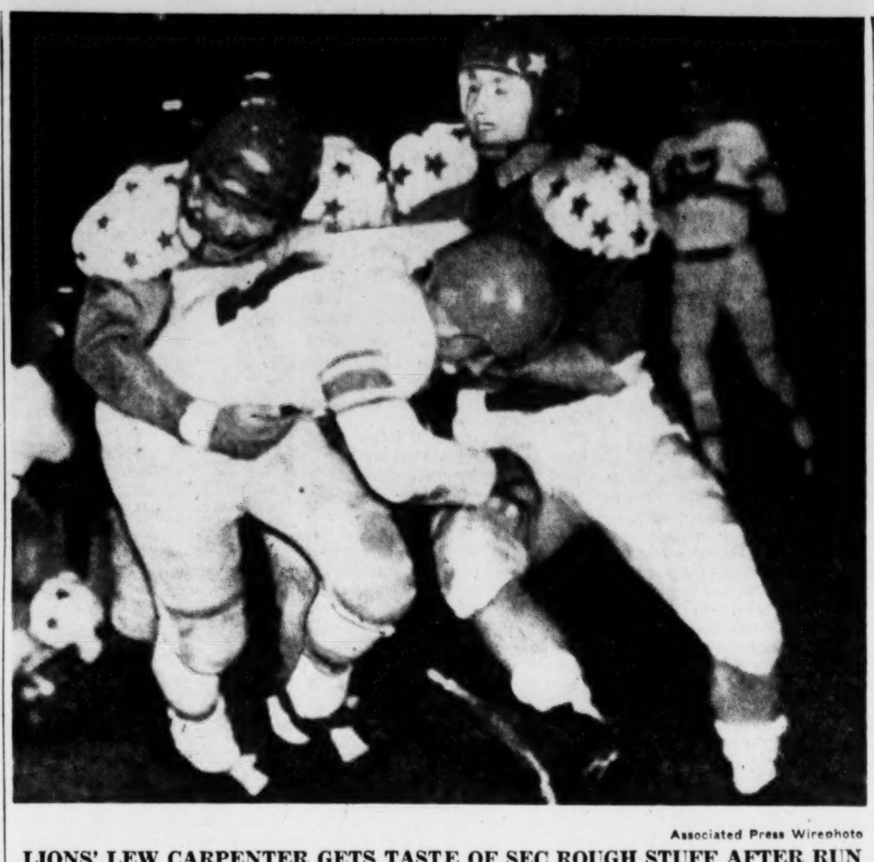

"Oh, I see all of Minnesota's home games and maybe I'll take a trip or two. After all, the handicappers who tout the horses don't see all the horses run. They've got a feel for horse racing. I've got a feel for football."

Wilton the Wizard does have his millstones. The Big Ten, for instance, refuse to allow traffic between their schools and 201 Gorham Bldg. Banyard gets his information, though. The method is confidential, but again, most unmysterious.

"Why," he said, "should I be a fat guy with a pinstripe suit, a big cigar in my face and all the other things that go with the portrait of a big gambler? I'm a little man who loves sports and loves to decide the way things should be on the basis of the way they have been.

"No, it isn't illegal. We simply offer the public a service. A brokerage house offers information on the stock market. We offer information on football games. Why should anyone be amazed that we're so accurate? That's our business. If we weren't accurate, we'd soon be out of business. Another thing, the public notices only the close games. It never notices how much we miss the games with the long odds.

"I'm just a simple man, a simple man," he said, and to prove it, he excused himself immediately when his wife told him it was time to go. She has a perfect record, too. She's never lost one to Wilton yet.

Chicks Nip Crax, 7-6, With Five in Eighth

Cristante To Face Lookouts As Atlanta Limps Into Poncey

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

MEMPHIS, Aug. 13—Memphis got strong relief pitching Friday night and Atlanta didn't, so the Chicks snatched the season's finale between the clubs, 7-6, via a five-run comeback in the eighth.

The game was patterned after the Crackers' 7-7 road tour, which started out on a high note and had a sour finish.

Bill George, who has finished only once in eight games, was staked to a 6-0 lead in the first three rounds but collapsed in the eighth. And Don McMahon, who has been shaky in several of his recent appearances, failed again to put out the fire.

The entire tour was the same. After winning four of five games from Birmingham, Whitlow Wyatt's men lost six out of nine to Little Rock and Memphis.

Thus, as they return to Poncey Saturday night, where they'll open a seven-game stand against Chattanooga, the Crackers are two lengths back of New Orleans. They are still very much in the pennant fight with 19 of their remaining 27 contests booked at Poncey.

Leo Cristante (20-6) gets the nod against the Lookouts in the first of the four-game set, which has been designated as a combination "Show Joe (Engel) and TV Appreciation Night."

Things looked normal Friday as the Crackers, who wound up with a 15-7 mark against the Chicks, winged into a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Pete Whisenant's No. 16 homer after Junior Wooten and Vern Petty singled put Jim Flanigan in a hole.

Back-to-back doubles by Frank Torre and Jim Solt and Petty's second single increased the spread to 5-0 in the second. And George was sitting on a 6-0 cushion after Torre slashed a scoring single in the third.

George started about as strong as a pitcher can, fanning four men in the first round. This oddity occurred when George Noga whiffed, but reached first when a third strike pitch zipped past Jim Solt for an error.

Torre's third-inning safety, however, was the seventh and last for the Crackers. Jack Swift, who came on in the third, unfurled four hitless rounds, and Bill Fischer and Vito Valentinetti tossed one each.

Encouraged by the sharp relief work, the Chicks first showed signs of offensive life with a run in the fourth. Sammy Meeks' single, mixed with a Paul Rambone error and two infield outs, did the trick.

George was nipped for another run in the seventh when Duke Doolittle and Len Johnston wrapped singles around Jim Baumer's ground-out.

The end then came in the eighth. George dug his own hole and buried the Crackers with him, though the loss went to McMahon.

With one away, Meeks rapped his third straight single, and Stan Jok powered a homer into the left seats, his 13th, the 15th served up by George.

George then juggled Ed White's gentle roller for an error and signed a pass for Ken Landenberger before leaving. Ralph Rowe, swinging for Kite Thomas, greeted McMahon with a run-producing single, and walks to Hal Keller and George Moskovich forced in the tying marker.

At that point Johnston lifted a tall fly to Chuck Tanner, and Rowe hoofed it home with the deciding run.

Valentinetti set down the Crackers in order in the ninth. Pinch-hitter Dick Donovan, who skied

Crackers Smash Own Clout Mark 2d Year in Row

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 13—For the second year in a row, the Crackers have established a new club home run record.

Gene Mauch's outfit belted 122 a year ago, and the eight-homer spree against the Chicks Thursday night eclipsed that mark. Dick Donovan's sixth-inning sock in the first game was the record-breaking smash. Pete Whisenant's in the first Friday night was the 130th of the year.

Dublinski Sparks Onslaught As Pros Make It Look Easy

By FURMAN BISHER
Constitution Sports Editor

CHICAGO, Aug. 13—The College All-Stars of 1953 lost a football game to the Detroit Lions, 31-6, at Soldier Field Friday night, but they proved a point to 93,470 people who came to see the match. They proved that a middlewight can't challenge a heavyweight and show profit.

This was the 21st in the series of charity bouts between the best of college and the professional champions. This was the pros' 13th victory. They have lost only six. They have been tied twice. The Lions, who came into this game with a scorn, got No. 13 for their breed with hardly a struggle. They also left with scorn, for all this was accomplished with their ace, quarterback Bobby Layne, riding the bench.

In his place, Coach Buddy Parker of Detroit entrusted the game to third-year man Tom Dublinski, a stand-in from Utah. Dublinski handled the assignment with professional grace and ease,

For Georgians, this game had special significance. It marked the final act of the state's most famous football battery in many years, quarterback Zeke Bratkowski an dend John Carson. They performed together for the last time on this night and each emerged with a reasonable amount of honor.

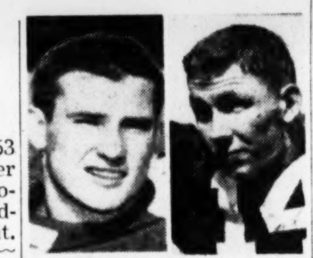

As Coach Jim Tatum of the All-Stars had advertised, Bratowski was his offense. The tall boy, who joins the Chicago Bears Saturday, completed eight of 14 passes for 63 of the 144 yards his team gained. Three of these went to Carson, who added a fourth from Lamar McHan of Arkansas for 45 yards. Carson also goes his professional way Saturday, joins the Cleveland Browns at Hiram, Ohio.

It was simply no match from the first moment, when halfback Johnny Lattner, the Notre Dame all-American, fumbled the ball away to Thurman McGraw, 255-pound Lion tackle. Four plays later Jungle Jim Martin kicked a 28-yard field goal that gave the Lions a 3-0 lead.

Lattner threw a wobbly pass a moment later that halfback Jack Christianson intercepted at midfield in the name of the Lions. In seven plays the pros had their first touchdown on Doak Walker's four-yard end run, all this in the first seven minutes and five seconds.

With this cushion, the Lions coasted the rest of the evening. It gave Parker a chance to inspect his reserve Dublinski, among others. Besides Layne, such stars as Hunchy Hoernschmeyer, Jim David and Cloyce Box were virtually inactive. It was almost as if the Lions came here to demonstrate how easily a pro can handle an amateur in this business.

The Lions collected 250 yards running, nine yards off the game record set by Green Bay in '45. They set a record with 14 rushing first downs. Dublinski pitched 15 times for 10 completions and 103 yards. The busiest and most effective weapon was sophomore

Carlton Massey   Johnny Lattner

Leon Campbell out of Arkansas, who carried 20 times for 9 yards.

Veryl Swister, a pine-knot Negro from Kansas State, was the All-Stars' only claim to a ground offense, six times for 34 yards. The Notre Dame greats, Lattner and Worden, never saw daylight, picked up only 17 and eight yards during the evening.

Actually, the All-Stars' touchdown was more or less a gift. Dublinski fumbled on the first play of the second half, Jerry Hilgenberg of Iowa recovered

Brooks Beat Giants On Furillo's Homer

Durocher Strategy Fails; Erskine Grabs 14th, 3-2

BROOKLYN, Aug. 13 (AP)—Carl Furillo smashed a two-run homer into the left-field stands in the seventh inning tonight as the Brooklyn Dodgers came from behind and whipped the New York Giants 3-2.

The victory moved the Dodgers to within 2½ games of the league-leading Giants.

Carl Furillo

Furillo's blast, his 10th of the season, followed a single by Gil Hodges leading off in the eighth against Marv Grissom. Manager Leo Durocher had yanked starter Sal Maglie after the Giants took a 2-1 lead in the seventh.

Carl Erskine stopped the New Yorkers on six hits for his 15th victory and struck out nine.

The Dodgers scored first, getting a run in the sixth as Erskine singled, breaking a string of 13 consecutive outs. Junior Gilliam singled and Reese sent Monte Irvin to the left field wall for his sacrifice fly.

The Giants promptly went ahead in the seventh. Don Mueller doubled off the right field wall, took third on a wild pitch and scored on a single into left by Mays. Irvin doubled off the left field wall to score Mays but Erskine bore down and left Irvin on second.

Maglie, winner of 10 of 11 previous lifetime starts in Ebbets Field, appeared tired in the sixth and Durocher pinch hit for him in the seventh, bringing in Grissom after a thorough warm up. But the warm up didn't help. Grissom settled down after Furillo's homer, retiring the next six men, three of them on strikeouts, but it was too late.

The Giants lead the season's series with the Dodgers, nine games to five, with eight left, five of them in Brooklyn.

Rickey Plans Retirement From Bucs

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13 (AP)—Branch Rickey is retiring as general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates at the expiration of his 5-year contract in November of 1955.

Branch Rickey

Saying he will retire from "active duty" next year, Rickey declared in an interview that he hopes to continue his association with the Pirates. He added:

"I shall continue to work for the Pittsburgh club, and without salary, after the expiration of my contract, if so permitted."

Rickey said a few days ago before leaving for a Canadian vacation. "I intend to devote myself, more or less, largely to scouting until the time comes when I can sit in the stands and watch the team in a world series."

The 72-year-old Rickey has spent 52 years in baseball.

When his son, Branch Rickey Jr., learned today his father is planning to quit, he said:

"Dad has been talking about this for some time. I am certain he will retire from active duty next year and devote his time to scouting for the Pittsburgh club."

Young Rickey, vice president in charge of minor league clubs for the Pirates, added:

"There's no better man in baseball than dad at scouting young ball players. Of course, if he remains with the club, he will be consulted on trades, sale of players and other moves. His main work, however, will be scouting."

Schultz Wins His 17th for Pels; As Powers Bats In Five Runs

Lookouts' Lane Baffles Bears

By BILL FERGUSON
United Press Sports Writer

Bob Schultz picked up his 17th win of the season Friday night as loop-leading New Orleans topped Nashville, 14-6, and wound up a nine-game road trip with seven victories and two setbacks.

The Pelicans nailed two pitchers for 16 hits and Schultz coasted in. J. C. Powers led the New Orleans attack with a two-run homer and a three-run double.

The Vols pelted Schultz for four runs in the first inning and kept step with the Pels until the sixth, when New Orleans exploded for six runs. Nashville's eight hits included a homer by Eric Rodin.

Fourth-place Chattanooga rang up a second straight win over Mobile, 7-2, as Gerry Lane tossed an eight-hitter. Lane surrendered two runs in the first inning, then tossed goose-eggs the rest of the way.

Birmingham broke a two-game losing streak by shelling Little Rock, 11-6. The Slagtowners picked up 13 hits, including a two-run homer by John Herman.

Harshman Bests Aber, 1-0, On Minoso's Late Triple

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Jack Harshman, a Chicago White Sox rookie up from Nashville, won the major league's finest pitching duel of the season today when he bested Al Aber and the Detroit Tigers 1-0 in 16 innings.

A triple by Minnie Minoso scored Nellie Fox from first base in the 16th to give Harshman his tenth victory of the season. He had lost six. Aber, also a southpaw, toiled all the way for his seventh loss against four victories. Harshman, who also went the distance, has now pitched 28 straight scoreless innings.

The lean left-hander, who got an earlier major league chance as a first baseman, struck out 12 batters, his second highest total of the year. In a previous nine-inning game he struck out 16.

Harshman walked only seven men, mostly in the late innings, in this longest game of the season. Aber issued but three passes and fanned eight. Each southpaw allowed nine hits.

The White Sox opened their half of the 16th with Chico Carrasquel popping a lead-off single to left. Fox attempted to sacrifice but forced Carrasquel. Minoso then sliced a drive down the right-field line and Fox raced home to end the 3:50 marathon.

Slaughter's Slash Wins for Yanks

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Balding, 38-year-old Enos Slaughter got off the bench and slammed a pinch-hit triple with the bases loaded tonight to break a tie and lead the New York Yankees to an 8-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox. The Yanks thus remained 2½ games behind the Cleveland Indians.

Whitey Ford tossed his fifth straight complete game in the process of stopping the Red Sox, and until Slaughter got his mighty blow, had no easy time of it against young Leo Kiely. The Yanks managed to score once off him in the second, only to have Lou Boudreau's men come back with two in the third. Then the Yanks tied it with one more in the fifth and set the stage for Slaughter.

Disputed Shot Whips Reds

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13 (AP)—A sinking liner by Wally Moon in the ninth inning—which Cincinnati manager Birdie Tebbetts claimed was caught—gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 10-8 come-from-behind victory tonight over the Redlegs. Tebbetts was thrown out of the game when he protested centerfielder Gus Bell snared the ball to retire the side.

Toski Smashes Tam For Halfway Mark

Fires 65 for 12-Under-Par 132; Palmer, Harrison Two Back

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Bob Toski, a 127-pound walloper from Livingston, N.J., turned Tam O'Shanter into a target range today with a 34-31—65 for a 36-hole course record total of 132—12 under par—and a three-stroke lead at the halfway mark in the $150,000 "World" tournament.

The little 27-year-old pro, third on the PGA money-winning list with a collection of $14,938, had a good working margin as he headed for tomorrow's third round in the stampede for an unprecedented first award of $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract.

His nearest rivals were two veterans, Johnny Palmer, 36-year-old North Carolinian who won the "World" in 1949, and the persistent tournament chaser, 44-year-old Dutch Harrison.

Palmer fired a 36-32—68 in the second round and the unflagging Harrison coupled 34s, each to draw up at 135.

Only one stroke away at 136 were well-seasoned George Fazio with a 66; Walter Burkemo, 1953 National PGA champion and runner-up this year, with a 70; Jack Burke with 67; Earl Stewart Jr., the first-round leader who welded a 71 to his opening 65; and British Open titlist, Peter Thomson of Melbourne, who notched a second straight 68.

Next in golf's greatest money hunt at 137 were Al Besselink, who duplicated Toski's seven-under-par 65, and All-American champion Jerry Barber, with a steady 67.

In all, 48 pros in the field of 96 were par 144 or better; and 39 of them had beaten that standard.

But stealing the show was Toski, winner of the Baton Rouge, Wilmington and Eastern Opens this season. His 65 tacked to yesterday's 67 was two strokes under the 36-hole tally of 134 set in 1945 by Byron Nelson enroute to a Tam tourney mark of 269 for 72 holes.

In other "World" divisions being run off simultaneously in the complex Tam jamboree, these were the 36-hole standings:

Men Amateurs—Arnold Palmer of Cleveland with a 70 today for 138. Frank Stranahan second with 72 for 141.

Women amateurs—Mickey Wright of San Diego with 76 and "Wiffe" Smith, defending champion from La Canada, Calif., with 74—each with a 153 total.

Women pros—Patty Berg, 75 for 144, eight under par. Louise Suggs second with 76 for 148, and All-American champion Babe Zaharias third with 73 for 149.

Men's Pros: Bob Toski, Livingston, N.J., 67-65—132; Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N.C., 67-68—135; Dutch Harrison, St. Louis, 67-68—135; George Fazio, Clementon, N.J., 70-66—136; Peter Thomson, Australia, 68-68—136; Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich., 66-70—136; Jack Burke Jr., Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., 69-67—136; Earl Stewart, Dallas, 65-71—136; Al Besselink, Grossinger, N.Y., 72-65—137; Jerry Barber, La Canada, Calif., 70-67—137; Flory Van Donck, Brussels, Belgium, 69-70—139.

Doug Ford, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., 70-69—139; Jay Hebert, Woodmere, L.I., N.Y., 71-68—139; Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, 70-69—139; Felice Torza, St. Charles, Ill., 71-69—140; Ed Furgol, Clayton, Mo., 71-69—140; Ed Oliver, Chicago, 69-71—140; Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., 68-72—140; Mike Dietz, Detroit, 70-70—140; Freddie Haas, New Orleans, 73-67—140; Mike Souchak, Durham, N.C., 69-71—140; Bud Holscher, Santa Monica, Calif., 70-70—140; Marty Furgol, Chicago, 73-68—141; Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., 72-69—141.

QUITE A RECOVERY—CHICAGO, Aug. 13—A fellow named Arne Werkell of Stocksund, Sweden, belted his tee shot on the par-three eighth hole at Tam O'Shanter to the fourth green. But after minutes of study he flipped an eight-iron second try in the cup for a birdie two the hard way.

Pirates Sweep Two From Philadelphia

Gordon and Ward Clobber Three-Run Homers in First

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates mauled Robin Roberts on three-run homers by Sid Gordon and Preston Ward and then backed rookie Vernon Theis' three-hitter with a four-run splurge to sweep a doubleheader from Philadelphia at Connie Mack Stadium tonight 9-5 and 5-0.

Roberts had shut out the Pirates in three straight appearances before tonight. But Gordon blasted his eighth homer of the year in the first inning and Ward hit his in the fifth to make it 8-0 against the hard-working righthander.

That was the first game as Bob Friend coasted to his fifth victory against 10 defeats. Roberts lost his 10th compared to 17 wins.

The nightcap was a pitchers' duel between Thies, who scored his second win against three losses, and Herman Wehmeier, until the big outburst.

SILER NAMED NEW PREXY OF U.S. FOOTBALL WRITERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Football Writers Assn. of America today moved to achieve closer cooperation with the nation's college football coaches.

The group, at its annual meeting in connection with the All-Star football game, voted to appoint a five-man liason committee to work with a similar group from the American College Coaches Assn.

The writer committee will be selected by Tom Siler, of the Knoxville, Tenn., News-Sentinel, today elected new president of the FWAA. Siler succeeds Rube Samuelson of the Pasadena Star News.

Three men have been named to the coaches' committee, including George Munger of Pennsylvania, president of the coaches' association, Ray Eliot of Illinois and Jess Neely of Rice. Munger described the joint effort as "one of the most important taken by the coaches and writers."

The Football Writers' Award was presented posthumously to the late Grantland Rice and will be sent to Vanderbilt, Rice's alma mater, for permanent display.

The writers established the Rice Memorial award to be given annually to the outstanding football player.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13 (AP)—Unbeaten Cisco Andrade, who learned his trade in Army boxing competition, seeks his 25th ring victory here tomorrow night against Bolden Abrams of Philadelphia.

The scheduled 10-rounder between the two lightweights will be televised nationally (ABC) from the Met. The 8 p.m. (EST) windup is part of the regular Saturday night TV fight show.

Umsteader Wins Pair In Crackerland Meet

Ex-LSU Star First To Gain Semis, Darkness Limits Play

By ROBERT WYNN
Constitution Sports Writer

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 14—Defending champion Bill Umsteader reached the semifinals of the Crackerland men's singles for the fourth straight year here Friday afternoon by disposing of two younger opponents.

The 34-year-old ex-LSU star star of Abbeville, S.C., eliminated George Frilot, Loyola of New Orleans ace, 6-0, 6-2, then tranmpled John Heinz of Columbia, S.C., 6-0, 6-3.

Umsteadter is at this time the only player to gain the semiminals. Top-seeded Jose Aguero of Brazil and Tulane Alan St. John, ex-Texas U. palyer, 6-0, 6-1 and was leading Southern boy's champion Ned Neely, 6-0, when darkness halted play. If he goes on to win he will be in the semifinals.

The Aguero-Neely winner faces the Gordon Warden-Lindsey Hopkins, quarterfinal victor in the semifinals Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. Umsteadter's semi-final foe will be the winner of another quarterfinal match halted by darkness. Harvey Jackson of Washington led Dan Magill of Athens, 6-5, 4-2.

Fisherman Top Choice In Travers Stakes Today

Condensed From Constitution Wire Reports

The powerful racing stable of C. V. Whitney, whose homebreds have dominated the current meeting, will set its sights on two more important stakes at Saratoga Saturday.

Big one is the $25,000-added Travers, oldest stake race run in this country. Fisherman is Whitney's entry in the 85th running, and he's sure to be a heavy favorite.

In the 52nd winner-take-all Saratoga Special, Whitney will run Pyrenees and Brown Hackle against five other juveniles.

Sports in Brief

MORE RACING — Washington Park has a doubleheader, the $25,000-added Grassland Handicap and the $20,000-added Misty Isle. Queen Hopeful tops the Misty Isle field.

Blum Stays Under Par To Control Golf Lead

By BERT PRATHER
Constitution Sports Writer

ALBANY, Aug. 13—Arnold Blum, Macon stylist, was still the pace-setter and generally rated the man to beat as play in the 22nd Radium Country Club Invitation golf tournament reached the 36-hole mark here Friday.

The former state and Southern amateur champ added a one-under-par 71 Friday to his spectacular 67 of Thursday for a two-round total of 138.

This gave him a two-stroke spread over Bobby Dunn, Camilla youngster whose 36-hole reading was 68-72—140. Vernon Ray of Jacksonville, Fla., held down third spot with 71-70—141, three strokes ahead of young Jack Lumpkin, University of Georgia golf team member from Athens. Jack came back for a 71 Friday to go with his opening 73.

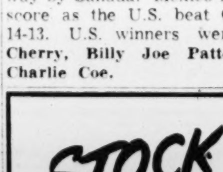

Earl Bowden Jr. of Columbus, pulled up in fifth place with 76-69—145. He topped off his second round with the most spectacular shot of the day—a double-eagle two on the 18th. Bowden, who has transferred from Auburn to Georgia where he hopes to land a place on next year's Bulldog links team, slammed in a 215-yard two-iron shot that took one bounce, hit the flag and disappeared into the cup.

This gave him a tie for the daily low prize with Atlanta's Jimmy Moore who also finished with a 69 and a 146 total.

Five-Run First Aids Feller's 259th Win

Tribe Chases Turley Early With Flurry of Quick Hits

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13 (AP)—Bolstered by a five-run flurry in the first inning, veteran righthander Bob Feller hurled his 259th victory for the Cleveland Indians tonight, defeating the Baltimore Orioles 9-4.

It was the 35-year-old fireballer's 10th victory against but two defeats. Bob Turley, chased as the Indians scored 5 runs on as many hits in the big first frame, suffered his 12th loss against 9 triumphs.

Cleveland's Dave Pope drove in two runs in the first inning with a double and hit his first homer of the season in the third inning with none aboard.

Baltimore got the first run of the game in the first inning when Bobby Young singled, advanced to second on a walk and scored on Vern Stephen's single.

But the Tribe's half of that inning quickly changed the tone of the ball game. Al Smith led off with a single, moved to third on another single by Bob Avila and tied the score by scoring when Larry Doby forced Avila.

Pope's homer in the third sent the Tribe ahead, 6-1.

A's Top Nats On Finigan Theft

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Jim Finigan stole home in the eighth inning to score the decisive run as the Philadelphia Athletics broke an eight-game losing streak tonight by edging Washington, 3-2.

On the hotly disputed steal, catcher Joe Tipton of the Senators was evicted by Bill Grieve, plate umpire, for protesting too vigorously.

and the College Joes set off on a stirring four-yard touchdown drive. Lattner, stopped cold on first down, scored it on an end sweep the second time. Lou Creekmur, a wickd William & Mary alumnus, blocked the conversion attempt.

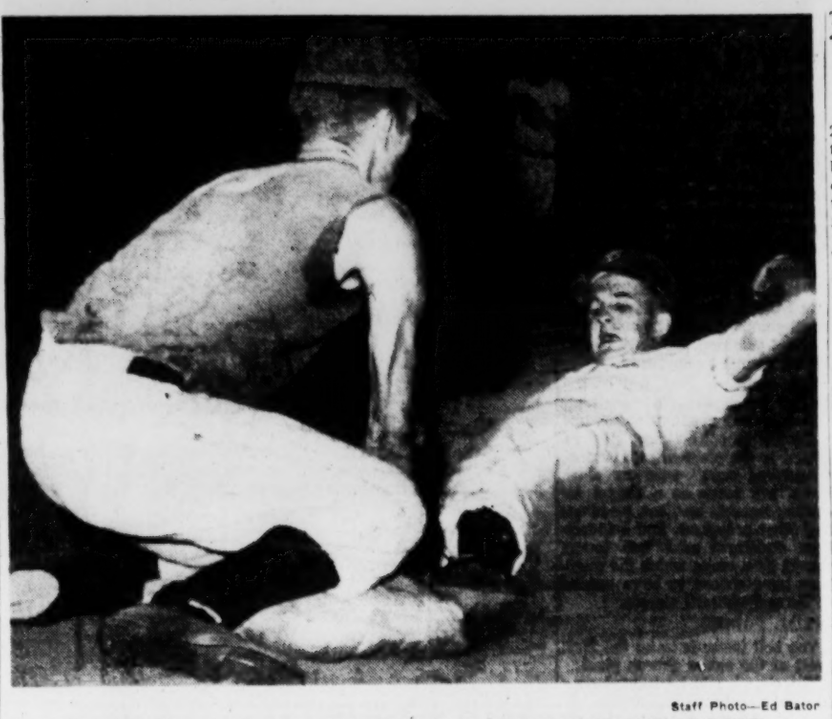

The All-Stars never made a firstdown until the third play of the second period, when Bratowskit threw to his co-captain and end, Carlton Massey of Texas, for 15 yards. This also represented the All-Stars' first foray into Lion territory, an event made possible when Lattner recovered a Carpenter fumble at the Lion 48.

This is how the Lions scored their other touchdowns: On a Carpenter sweep from two yards out at the end of a 73-yard drive in the first period; on a Carpenter plunge from half a yard out at the end of a 68-yard drive in the third period; and on end Jim Doran's "steal" of a Bratkowski handoff to Worden, followed by a 34-yard unmolested run in the fourth quarter.

Bratkowski had a couple of high moments in the second half. He got off a 68-yard punt in the third period, the belt preceding the Lions' 68-yard return drive. Then, as if to live one last fling, he and Carson made connections on an All-Star drive that carried from their 16 to the Lion 40 before the stall set in in the fourth period.

The Brat hit Carson three times on this adventure, once for seven, once for 14 and once for 10 yards. Running the split T as Tatum would have him run it, Bratkowski turned leg artist in this game working the trade mark option play. His performance as a runner was not distinguishing, he suffered a mishap at the start that may have hampered. He turned his angle the first time he ran and later had to leave the game for a rest.

There was no great rush to nominate the outstanding All-Star, as is the custom in this game. Maybe it was Bratkowski, or maybe it was Switzer, who also starred on some jarring kickoff returns and in some defensive maneuvers, or maybe it was Massey, a tiger on defense in the early playing quarters, or maybe it was Hilgenberg, the Iowa center playing guard here. There was little otherwise to distinguish one collegian from another.

Vinson, Fuller, Hardy Slug as Reliefer Fans 10 in 5 of City Meet Opener

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Big David Henck mowed down 10 batters on strikes and allowed only two hits in five innings of relief hurling as Scottdale Mills drew first blood in the 1954 Atlanta Amateur Baseball Federation tournament Friday night with a 15-4 victory over Cosco Paint.

David took over from brother Joe Henck, who started, in the fifth inning at South Fulton Park and school was out for the Coscos in the only first-round game played. The others in a 31-team field go to baseball war Saturday and Sunday.

Milton Vinson slashed two doubles and two singles, Earle Fuller a triple and three singles and Alton Hardy three one-basers in sparking a 20-hit attack on Earl Donald by Jake Boyd's Scottdalers.

Donald was the big gunner for the losers, bagging three of Cosco's nine blows. Randy Hudgins walloped a brace of singles also.

A six-game Saturday schedule will be highlighted by the playing of the Bolton Post 156-South Park game at South Fulton Park at 8 p.m. and the Chamblee-Gordon Street Baptist tiff at 4 p.m. in Chamblee.

Powerful Milstead will go against Doraville at 2 p.m. as the first part of a Chamblee twin bill, only doubleheader slated at any of the diamonds.

Three other games will start at 3 p.m., Glenwood Hills meeting Corinth Baptist at Ben Hill, Hapeville going against Simmons Service at Center Hill and Turin taking on Yancey Brothers at South Fulton Park.

Sixteen other teams will see first action Sunday

Jordan, Three Others Move Into ASA Finals

By MEL DERRICK
Constitution Sports Writer

MARIETTA, Aug. 13—Striking out 12 batters, fireballing Frank Hall moved unbeaten Jordan Mills of Columbus into the finals of the North Georgia Amateur Softball Assn. tournament at Larry Bell Center here Friday night.

Hall one-hit Navy Supply of Athens to give his mates a 4-0 win. Jordan now has won 27 straight games.

Three other teams gained the finals of the complicated single elimination meet Friday. Macon dropped the Lockheed Grommets, 8-0, in nine innings, West Point slipped past Cedartown, 2-1, and Rosenthal's of Athens took a forfeit win when Augusta failed to show up.

Saturday's schedule pits Macon with Rosenthal at 7 p.m. and Jordan with West Point at 8:15. Both winners automatically gain berths in the State Softball Championships starting at Cairo, Aug. 19. The losers play at 10 p.m. with the winner of that game also going to Cairo.

Navy's only hit against the quick throwing Hall was a leadoff single in the third by Vic Anderson. Hall then fanned the next three batters.

Macon, with Norman Coffey furnishing most of the punch, pushed across eight runs in the top of the ninth to take the extra inning victory over the Gromettes. Coffey packed his only two hits of the game into the wild inning, leading off with a double and scoring the actual winning run on Dan Carmichael's bunt. Later in the frame, he rounded out the game's scoring with a two-on home run.

Rocca Pins Art Nelson

It took Argentina Rocca only 22 minutes to pin Art Nelson at the City Auditorium Friday night before a packed house. Nelson didn't use his usual attack of twisting his opponent in the ropes.

In the other main event, El Toro and "Bowery Boy" Jack Steele topped Red McIntyre and Ben Motta in 22 minutes also.

In other matches Chief Big Heart won over Jack O'Reilly in 15 minutes, and Jerry Graham topped Lucky Gilpin in 10 minutes.

Next week's main event will pit World Champ Mildred Burke against June Byers. Burke has never lost a bout.

Video Bout Slated

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Heavy weights Bob Satterfield of Chicago and Frankie Daniels of Bakersfield, Calif., today were matched for a ten-round television bout at St. Nicholas Arena, Aug. 30.

Gilliard Farewell Service Slated by Salvation Army

An official farewell service for Lt. Commissioner and Mrs. Alfred J. Gilliard will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Salvation Army Temple Corps, 54 Ellis St., NE.

Commissioner William J. Dray, territorial commander of the Salvation Army, will lead the service.

Commissioner Gilliard has, since February, been the chief secretary of the Salvation Army in 15 Southern states. He and Mrs. Gilliard will leave Atlanta Aug. 20 for London, England, where he is to be principal of the Salvation Army Staff College.

A. J. Gilliard — Mrs. Gilliard

Before he was commissioned as a Salvation Army officer in 1922, Commissioner Gilliard served as a reporter on the Halifax Courier, Yorkshire, England. He was a sea-going radio operator during World War I.

For 15 years he edited the "Salvation Army International War Cry," published in London. He also edited several other Salvationist publications.

He came to Atlanta from San Francisco, Calif., where he had served as personnel director for the Western Territory of the Salvation Army.

A native of Capetown, South Africa, Mrs. Gilliard moved to England when she was four. Married to Commissioner Gilliard in 1923, she was commissioned a Salvation Army officer in 1929. For several years she has been responsible for the organization's women's work in the South.

Salvation Army Aide to Evanston

S-Major Lillian Hansen, editor-in-chief of the Salvation Army publication, "The Southern War Cry," will leave Saturday for Evanston, Ill., where she will serve as a representative at the second assembly of the World Council of Churches. Copies of the publication will be on exhibit at the assembly.

Rev. Strickland To Speak Sept. 3 At Camp Glisson

The Rev. Earl Strickland, pastor of College Park Methodist Church, will be the platform speaker at a Methodist young adult conference to be held at Camp Glisson, near Dahlonega, Sept. 3-6.

Mrs. Barbara Pittard, the Rev. Arthur L. Gilmore, Terrell Tanner, Mrs. Jimmy Lee Guptil and Mrs. Rubye Harris of Atlanta will lead work groups at the conference.

Loy Crowder of Griffin is president of the North Georgia Methodist Young Adult Fellowship. Other officers are Luke Harris, Atlanta, vice president; Miss Dawn Atkinson, Atlanta, secretary, and Carl Martz, Augusta, treasurer.

Musical Family To Perform at Decatur Baptist

The "Musical Woodhouses," a family musical team from Melody Haven, St. Petersburg, Fla., will have charge of the 8 p.m. service Sunday at Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, Decatur.

The team includes Mr. and Mrs. John Ashley Woodhouse and their children, Jon Mark and Joanna.

The four play a total of eight kinds of musical instruments and also sing as a quartet.

Oak Grove's 1st Service Set Aug. 22

A week of special services has been scheduled Aug. 22-29 in celebration of the opening of the new sanctuary of Oak Grove Methodist Church.

Sunday, Aug. 22, will be homecoming day. The first service in the new sanctuary will be held at 11 a.m. A picnic lunch will follow at 12:30 p.m., and a special musical program is scheduled at 8 p.m.

Monday, Aug. 23, will be Baptist Day and all Baptists in the community have been invited to attend a service at 8 p.m. The Rev. Cary Wood, pastor of Peachtree Baptist Church, will preach.

All Presbyterians in the community have been invited to hear the Rev. Max Milligan, pastor of Clairmont Presbyterian Church, preach at the 8 p.m. service on Aug. 24.

On Aug. 25 the Rev. Charles F. Schwab, pastor of Decatur Christian Church, will preach at 8 p.m. and all members of Lutheran and Christian churches in the community will be special guests.

The Rev. Harry Tisdale, rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Decatur, will preach on Aug. 26 and all Episcopalians have been especially invited to the 8 p.m. service.

The preacher on Aug. 27 will be the Rev. W. H. Ruff, pastor of Ousley Methodist Church. All Methodists will be specially recognized at the 8 p.m. service.

At 8 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 29, a joint service of all the community churches will be held. The Rev. James L. Welden, Oak Grove pastor, will be the preacher.

The new red brick sanctuary, which will seat 400 persons, cost $80,000. It is in colonial style.

The two-year-old church has 325 members. The Rev. Mr. Welden is its first full-time pastor. An educational building, valued at $80,000, was completed last year.

The public is invited to attend all the special services.

Guest Minister

F. R. Eldridge, circuit minister of Jehovah's Witnesses and a representative of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, will address the Decatur congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses at their Kingdom Hall at 8 p.m. on Aug. 21 and at 6:15 and 8:30 p.m. on Aug. 22.

His subjects will be "Doing the Work Approved by God," "Living for the New World" and "Living by Faith."

IN OUR CHURCHES: Christ Lutheran Plans $200,000 Development

By LAURA BARRE

Plans for a $200,000 church plant which is expected to be one of the most striking examples of contemporary church architecture in the Atlanta area have been completed by members of Christ Lutheran Church, East Point.

Construction on the first unit of the plant, a $50,000 parish fellowship hall, is expected to begin in about six months and be completed by next summer, the Rev. Marlin Mentz, church pastor, said.

The complete plant will consist of the parish hall, a sanctuary with a seating capacity of 325, and a Sunday school building. Also included in the plans are an outdoor "cloistered area" with an altar, which will serve as a chapel for outdoor worship services, weddings and other programs, and a 60-foot-high structural steel bell tower, topped by a cross, which the members have chosen to have instead of the conventional steeple.

FOCAL POINT

The bell tower is to be the focal point of the entire church plant.

The church will be located on a two-and-a-half-acre site at the corner of Montrose and DeLowe Drives in East Point. The lot is valued at $13,000.

The congregation has been meeting in the Russell High School auditorium since the church was formed in June, 1953, and will continue to meet there until the parish hall is completed.

The parish hall will serve as a chapel until the sanctuary is built. It will have an "easy" seating capacity of 125, and can accommodate 150 "if they crowd a little," E. H. Moldenhauer, chairman of the building committee, said.

"MEDIEVAL CLOISTERS"

The three buildings will be tied together by covered walks and landscaped areas, which the architects, Aeck Associates of Atlanta, describe as "reminiscent of the cloisters of medieval cathedrals, providing a quiet, peaceful transition between the busy streets and the serenity of the church buildings."

Building materials will be wood and brick, used with large quantities of glass. Stained glass will be used sparingly, and primarily for the effect of light pouring through it. The entire east wall of the parish hall will be built of glass and doors, which will open onto a terrace adjoining the cloistered area.

The entire project will be done in natural finishes. "There probably won't be any paint anywhere," Moldenhauer said.

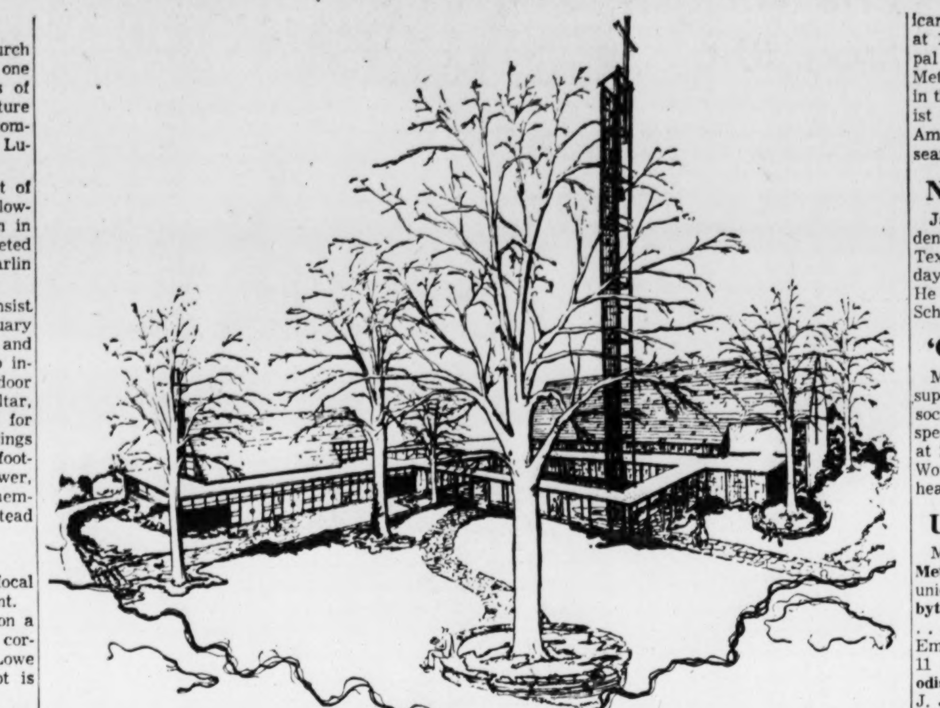

MOST ECONOMICAL

The Rev. Mr. Mentz said the congregation chose the contemporary style of architecture rather than the traditional Gothic or colonial styles, because they "want the most for their money, and modern architecture is designed to be functional and provide maximum utility from every inch of space and building material."

"That way, we can have a much larger and more efficient church plant for our money," he said.

Members of the building committee, in addition to Moldenhauer and the Rev. Mr. Mentz, are O. T. Walz, L. W. Myer, H. R. Schedler, and Elmer Reed. Present church membership is 95.

The Rev. Mr. Mentz said the entire project would be completed "as soon as funds are available."

88th Anniversary

Members of Sharon Baptist Church will observe the 88th anniversary of the founding of their church Sunday. The pastor, Dr. William G. Studer, will preach at 11 a.m. on "The Church's One Foundation" and at 8 p.m. on "Where Is the God of Elijah?"

Mrs. Willaim Studer and Mrs. P. B. Loney will be vocal soloists for the services.

Dinner will be served on the church grounds following the morning service. An address by Dr. P. B. Loney, former pastor of Runnymede Road Baptist Church, Toronto, Canada, is scheduled for the afternoon.

Sharon Church is located at the corner of Gordon and Hightower Rds., SW. Founded in 1866 with 17 charter members, it now has more than 1,000 members. Property, which includes a brick sanctuary and an educational building, is valued at $100,000, Dr. Studer said.

At both the morning and evening services the congregation will be asked to observe a minute of silence in tribute to the 17 charter members.

Erwin To Preach

The Rev. Donald S. Erwin, regional director of Christian education of the Presbyterian Synod of Georgia, will preach at 11 a.m. Sunday at College Park Presbyterian Church.

At 11 a.m., Aug. 22, the preacher will be the Rev. L. W. Warren Jr., pastor of Memorial Presbyterian Church, Columbus. The Rev. Mr. Warren served as summer student assistant at the church in 1947 when he was a student at Columbia Theological Seminary here.

The Rev. Clarence Piephoff, church pastor, is attending a two-week ministers and Bible conference at Montreat, N.C.

'Faith of Our Fathers'

A sound film, "Faith of Our Fathers," will be shown at the 8 p.m. service at Park Street Methodist Church Sunday, in the sixth of the church's series of programs on "Happy Christian Homes." The public is invited to attend.

Mitchell To Preach

The Rev. James A. Mitchell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Searcy, Ark., will preach at 11 a.m. Sunday at West End Presbyterian Church. He is attending Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur this summer.

Dr. Alva M. Gregg is pastor of West End Presbyterian Church.

'Holy Land' Talk

Dr. Boone M. Bowen of Emory University, who recently returned from a year's study tour of Palestine, will speak at 11 a.m. Sunday at East Lake Methodist Church on "The Holy Land—Past and Present."

CITY HALL NEWS

Zoning Unit Deadlocks On Stewart Ave. Issue

By MARJORY SMITH

A new four-man zoning committee of the Atlanta Board of Aldermen in its initial session Friday failed to agree on a controversial proposal to re-zone an area on Stewart avenue, SW, from "dwelling house district" to "business district" to permit a merchandise mart to be erected there.

The committee—comprised of Alderman Ham Douglas, chairman; Lee Fields, Milton Farris and Charlie Leftwich—voted to defer action, pending a personal inspection of the area.

The Municipal Planning Board previously had recommended re-zoning the property, which fronts on the east side of Stewart beginning 438 feet south of Deckner avenue, SW. The proposed re-zoning, however, is in conflict with the Bartholomew study on which a proposed new Atlanta-Fulton County zoning ordinance is based.

'ZONING ALL'

J. M. Stephens, representative of Bartholomew Co., firm of experts which prepared the suggested new city and county-wide zoning ordinance, warned aldermen Friday that re-zoning the Stewart avenue stretch would be "the same as zoning all of Stewart commercially."

A delegation of protesting property-owners in the Stewart and Deckner area appeared to ask the committee of aldermen to keep zoning "as it is." J. W. Nash of 1581 Stewart Ave., SW, said erection of the proposed merchandise mart would add to traffic problems and de-value homes in the area.

TRADE SHOWS

Spokesmen for another delegation of home owners, however, testified they favored the re-zoning. This group included City Purchasing Agent Ernest Brewer of 1404 Stewart Ave., SW, who insisted the proposed merchandise mart would "benefit the people in the long run."

J. J. Fine, attorney representing Southeastern Exhibitors, Inc., said the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the Atlanta Convention Bureau wanted the merchandise mart. The proposed two-story building, Fine said, would cover an area of 100,000 square feet, include parking for 1,000 automobiles, and be used for non-permanent trade shows.

Marshall Mantner, managing director of Southeastern Exhibitors, Inc., said his firm would be "principal leasor" of such a building. He insisted it would be "an asset to Atlanta."

Aldermen Fields and Farris indicated in the course of a committee session which followed the public hearing that they are inclined to favor re-zoning. Douglas and Leftwich said they "would not state how they felt until we are ready to put it to a vote." Douglas said the committee "hoped to make a unanimous recommendation before the Board of Aldermen meets Monday."

A New Grandfather

Municipal Auditorium manager H. H. Niebruegge Friday was passing a proud grandfather's cigar. His first grandchild, Donald Harry Niebruegge, who tipped the scales at eight and one quarter pounds, was born at Crawford Long Hospital here Tuesday, but announcements were delayed until the father, Petty Officer 3/C Harry Niebruegge Jr., now stationed with the Navy in the South Pacific, could be notified.

100 Attend Outing

Members of the Atlanta Recreation Department enjoyed their annual staff outing in North Fulton Park Friday. About 100 employes participated in golf, swimming and tennis matches. The all-day event ended with a barbecue.

Market Advances After Mixed Gait

Oils Strong; Aircrafts Off; Late Trade Shifts Picture

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—A final kick ahead sent the stock market higher today after it spent most of the session moving irregularly. The oils were outstanding among the major divisions, and there was ample support through the list.

Aircrafts were weak all day, and minus signs were sprinkled liberally especially in the steels and utilities.

The market started well as though it intended to advance briskly, but within a matter of minutes it ran into selling that turned the list mixed. That continued until near the close of trading when gradually gaining strength weighed the market on the upside.

AP AVERAGE UP

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks added 50 cents at $133.60. It was down 50 cents yesterday. On the week, the market is substantially ahead.

The industrial component of the average gained 60 cents, railroads were up 70 cents, while the utilities remained unchanged.

The list narrowed down to 1,184 individual issues traded, 39 less than yesterday, of which 546 were higher and 398 lower. Ninety-two issues established new highs for the year and there were four new lows touched.

Volume was moderate at 2,500,000 shares as compared with 2,680,000 shares traded yesterday.

STUDEBAKER ACTIVE

Studebaker, whose workers voted to take a cut in wages to give the company a better competitive advantage, was moderately active and up ⅜ at 18¼. American Motors was lifted ½ at 11⅛ after the announcement that Nash has boosted its production 18 per cent.

Bullard shot ahead 3¾ at 50¾ on an earnings report showing profits almost doubled over a year ago.

Gabriel lost a point at 5⅞ when directors deferred dividend action until later in the year.

Curtiss-Wright breasted the lower trend of the aircrafts and gained ¼ at 13½. It reported first half profits up substantially.

Atlanta Produce

Supplies were moderate on the Atlanta fresh fruit and vegetable market Friday morning, but trading was fairly light, according to the AMS. Most of the demand seems to be for the large quantities of nearby produce offered on the farmers market.

Watermelons continued to drag on a dull market with some being dumped. Prices were mostly around 55c on the very best stock, with some sales as low as 15c, but most of the dealers were looking for customers. Bean supplies were considerably lighter this morning and prices for poles and snaps held steady. The large supplies of butterbeans accumulating on the market have caused a serious decline in the price of that item and sales dropped to a low of 75c per bushel for some of the fair quality stock, but even the best brought no more than 1.25-1.50. This was far below sales earlier in the week, and poles and snaps held at 2.50-2.75 per bushel with some sales of poles as high as 3.50. Cabbage was also unchanged with sales of 1.00 per bag for ordinary to fair quality farmer packs and 1.25-1.50 for better quality offerings at the wholesale houses. Collards were in better demand and somewhat lighter in supply with sales of 1.25-1.50 and even a few at 1.75 per dozen bunches. Corn continued plentiful at around 30c per dozen for most available stock. Cucumbers sold anywhere from 1.25-2.50 depending on the quality, but the demand was only fair on this commodity. Eggplant was moving fairly good with sales ranging 2.00-2.25 per bushel and okra was unchanged at 2.50-2.00.

Peaches sold generally at 3.50 per bushel with poorer or better quality higher and lower accordingly. Cantaloupes on the local farmers market were scarce, and wholesale firms were asking slightly higher prices for the California stock just arrived. Bartlett pears from California were at a standstill with operators unable to move the volume necessary to keep the ripe fruit from accumulating. Local pears were selling in fairly large volume at 1.25-1.50 per bushel. Most other items were unchanged.

Wheat, Rye Close Lower

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 (AP)—Wheat and rye scored modest gains on the board of Trade today but the rest of the market finished with a ragged look. At one time soybeans were run up sharply on short covering with the September future gaining about 6 cents on yesterday's close. Beans backed down quickly in the afternoon, however, and by the final gong only September held a fractional gain.

Wheat closed ⅜-1½ higher, corn ¾-⅞ lower, oats ⅜ lower to ¼ higher, rye ¼-1⅛ higher, soybeans 3 cents lower to ⅞ higher and lard unchanged to 22 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Dry Goods

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Business in the cotton textile market was slow Friday. Sales of print cloths for nearby and fourth quarter deliveries in small lots were confirmed at steady prices. Many millmen, however, continued to predict a buying flurry in cotton goods towards the end of the month.

Moderate sales of taffetas were made in rayon goods, but business in other directions of the market was light.

GEORGIA BUSINESS

Spending in State Ahead of '53 Pace

By JIM MONTGOMERY

Spending in Georgia this year continues ahead of the 1953 pace by about 3 per cent, although the gain last month over July a year ago amounted to less than 1 per cent.

The sluggish rise in spending which opened the second half of 1954 was measured by debits at reporting banks throughout the state, the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta said Friday.

But there was a wide variation from city to city. Bank debits —better known as checking account withdrawals—climbed 19 per cent in Gainesville last month over a year ago, but at the other extreme dipped 10 per cent in Augusta.

The state's 3 per cent gain so far this year over the first seven months of 1953 was second only to that of Florida in the Sixth Federal Reserve District, which also includes Alabama and parts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee.

An analysis of the percentage changes for 13 Georgia cities shows Gainesville in what is probably the most enviable position, and indicates a surge in Hall County's economic activity this year.

In addition to the increase in Gainesville mentioned above, the broiler capital's July bank debits were up 6 per cent from June. And in the first seven months this year they were 12 per cent ahead of the comparable 1953 period.

Several other cities showed substantial improvements in the latter category. Valdosta led with a 14 per cent hike, Brunswick had a 7 per cent increase, and in Atlanta and Rome debits were up 5 per cent.

Valdosta and Brunswick joined Gainesville in the select circle of cities showing all-around improvement, but Augusta, Elberton and Griffin registered decreases in all three categories.

Other reporting cities in the state held closer to previous levels.

Changes in debits generally reflect changes in the amount of money that people spend, since about 85 per cent of all business in this country is transacted by bank check.

Take Welfare Dept. Out of Politics---Gowen

By ALBERT RILEY
Constitution Staff Writer

JEFFERSON, Aug. 13—Charlie Gowen promised here Friday night to appoint a well-trained man as state welfare director and to take the department of public welfare out of politics if he is elected governor.

Gowen made that pledge as he brought his campaign here from Duluth and Buford where he literally burned up his sound-truck equipment with blistering attacks on M. E. Thompson and Marvin Griffin.

In his speech here, Gowen said the law that created the department of public welfare requires the governor to appoint a director of the department "on the basis of his training, ability and experience in public welfare administration."

"TO APPOINT BEST"

"Since that department was created in 1937," Gowen said, "we have had five governors, none of whom has ever complied with that provision of the law. All five governors have filled the office of welfare director with political appointments.

"I propose to comply with the law and appoint the best person I can find for the job on the basis of his training and experience in public welfare as well as ability."

At Duluth and Buford, Gowen trained his guns on Griffin for failing to appear before the Georgia Education Association workshop at Dahlonega Wednesday night to discuss his stand on private versus public schools.

Linking Tom Linder in the same charge because Linder and Griffin were the only gubernatorial candidates who did not attend the GEA meeting, Gowen said:

"They didn't have the nerve to appear because they were afraid to face the education people."

Gowen unleashed his heaviest blast at Thompson, however, accusing the former acting governor of talking out of both sides of his mouth on the school issue.

He noted that Thompson had told the GEA workshop the private school plan "was born in politics, nurtured in politics and would die a political death."

But Gowen pulled the record on Thompson with a transcript of a meeting of the Georgia Education Commission on June 15, in which he said Thompson made these remarks on the private school plan:

NO OBJECTION

"I can see no serious objection to this amendment—I say it is useful, it is harmless and I have no serious objection to it."

"If that wasn't endorsement of the private school plan, I don't know what is," Gowen shouted.

Pointing to his own vigorous and consistent opposition to the private school plan, Gowen then had this to say of Thompson:

"We have in the former acting governor a candidate for the state's highest office who is not willing to state publicly and openly where he stands. A man who will not declare himself will not make a good governor. It is necessary for a man with backbone and spunk to stand up for his convictions to make a good governor."

En route to Jefferson, Gowen shook hands at Gainesville, Flowery Branch, Talmo and Pendergrass.

Bandits Get $124,638at Fliers' Bank

CAMP SPRINGS, Md., Aug. 13. (AP)—Three gunmen stripped the Andrews Air Force Base bank of an estimated $124,638 today. The FBI reported one was nabbed within 15 minutes. Two other men were picked up for questioning, but later were released.

A smartly dressed trio, all Negroes, forced four bank employes and four customers into a vault, slugging one airman with a pistol butt, before speeding away from the one-story concrete building with the loot.

Minutes later a Prince Georges County (Md.) detective, who did not know of the robbery, arrested on a speeding charge a man who, the FBI said, later was identified by five persons in the privately owned bank as one of the robbers.

The other Negroes were in the stopped car. They sped off while the driver was being booked at a police station.

None of the three men was identified and there was no indication any of the $124,638 was recovered. The first man taken into custody reportedly is from New York City.

The stickup—which netted one of the biggest hauls in Washington area crime records—occurred just after the air base bank opened at 9 a.m. (EDT), and officials said the gunmen presumably knew $80,0000 in cash had just been received at the bank.

Athens Boy Reported 'Critical' Polio Victim

An eight-year-old Athens boy, John Cox Steedman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Steedman, was reported Friday in "critical" condition with polio at Grady Hospital.

Another new polio patient, 9-year-old Tommy Chastain, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chastain, of Danielsville, was listed in "fair" condition at Grady. The hospital now has 16 polio patients.

Letter Theft Plea

Herschel A. Wright, 41-year-old Negro and a postal service employe for 24 years, pleaded guilty Friday in a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Frank Holden to charges of stealing a special delivery letter containing money. Wright, who lives at 288 Brown St., SW, was released on $1,000 bond.

Hand Says Thompson Used Road Funds in '48

By M. L. ST. JOHN
Constitution Political Editor

MARIETTA, Aug. 13 — Negotiating contractors "kicked back" part of their profits in 1948 to M. E. Thompson's gubernatorial campaign fund, gubernatorial candidate Fred Hand charged here Friday night.

Hand made the accusation in a radio speech as he neared the end of a week of handshaking in northeast Georgia.

Hand told reporters:

"I am very well pleased with the response I have received. I think I have an excellent chance in northeast Georgia. I received pledges of support in every place I've been."

The House speaker visited in Walton, Hall, Lumpkin, White, Stephens, Madison, Clarke, Barrow and Gwinnett counties.

A MARIETTA HUB

The candidate opened Hand-for-Governor Headquarters in Marietta Friday night, meeting with Jack Henderson, a University of Georgia student, who heads the youth drive for Hand supporters, and Hoot Gibson, Smyrna political leader.

Henderson introduced Hand in a radio appearance. He called Hand the outstanding candidate for governor, and said the House speaker had proved his progressive outlook as a legislator by sponsoring the Minimum Foundation Program for Education.

In his radio talk, Hand said:

"Negotiated highway contracts during the 1948 political campaign cost the state 10 per cent more than they cost now. This extra 10 per cent which the negotiating contractors received went back into M. E. Thompson's campaign chest."

HITS SLOGANS

Hand hit at slogans being used by candidates Marvin Griffin and Thompson.

"Thompson says 'It Is Thompson's Time'," Hand commented. "Well, it is Thompson's time to tell the truth about his record."

As for Griffin's claims that he has "on-the-job" training, Hand said: "The on-the-job training Marvin received under Rivers and Arnall taught him tricks for his personal benefit and not for the benefit of the state."

Hand hit back at attacks made on him by his opponents.

"They call me a crepe hanger, a fox and a merchant prince," he asserted. "That doesn't bother me. It shows they are worried over my victorious campaign."

Hand said his candidacy as an "independent" offers the people a chance to get rid of "repudiated politicians."

Hand will give a campaign speech in Canton at 3 p.m. Saturday.

2 Firms Here Named in GE Price Suits

The General Electric Co. has filed injunction suits against two Atlanta furniture firms charging they are selling GE household appliances at cut-rate prices.

The suits were filed in Fulton Superior Court against the Demos Furniture Co. at 70 Forsyth St. and Cox-Gardner Furniture Co. at 78 Forsyth St., SW.

The electrical firm seeks a court order restraining the two firms from selling GE products at prices it says are below established minimum price level for retail dealers, under provisions of the state's fair trade law passed Jan. 6 by the General Assembly.

The GE petition charges that cut-rate selling by the two firms constitutes "unfair competition" to other dealers who maintain established prices, and that their actions damages the company's "goodwill and trade name."

Superior Judge Jesse M. Wood granted a temporary order restraining the firms from advertising or offering for sale GE products at prices less than the established retail minimum. A hearing was set for 9:30 a.m. Sept. 3.

Davis, Lowe, Abram Meet In N. Atlanta

By BERT SPENCER

Fifth District congressional candidate Morris Abram said Friday he believed it "the responsibility of government to make our free enterprise system work," while incumbent Rep. James C. Davis said his work on Buford Dam had assured the Atlanta area an adequate water supply for continued growth.

Abram, Davis and Wyman C. Lowe, the three candidates for Congress from Fulton, DeKalb and Rockdale counties, spoke to the Northside Club of north Atlanta. It was the first meeting of the three candidates during which questions from the audience or direct debate did not bring personal issues into the limelight.

VETERAN INTEREST

Lowe spoke first and told the group he believed his college training in government would be of benefit to the district. He said he is the only one of the candidates in the organized Army reserve and so was interested in all veterans and military legislation.

The candidate said he was for lowered income taxes, for federal aid to education and against the county unit system.

Abram again made the charge that the county unit system is undemocratic and that Davis is responsible for its use in the congressional primary. The incumbent later again denied he had anything to do with its use.

Keynoting his talk with his views toward the relation of government to business, Abram said he thought one responsibility of government is "to try to make maximum producers, consumers and taxpayers" out of all citizens.

Like public education, Abram said, public housing can help take "parasitic" citizens from the slums and make them good customers of private business.

Abram said he is opposed to "unfair" government intervention such as FEPC and socialized medicine, but is for government doing the jobs private enterprises cannot handle.

Davis said he believed his eight-year record in Congress was the type needed for the Fifth District, "one of the fastest growing areas in the United States."

BUFORD VITAL

Before he went to Congress, the incumbent said, there had been no money spent for planning or construction of Buford Dam. He said his promotion of the project which he said would be completed by 1956, is vital to the growth of the Atlanta area.

Davis and Lowe also made Friday night television and radio talks.

On WSB-TV, Davis said he has also fought for preservation of states rights, segregation in schools," and the right to choose our own associates."

Lowe, on radio Station WQXI, promised income tax reductions, abolition of the county unit system in the district and aid to farmers and veterans.

'Give Back My Teeth,' Columbus Suit Asks

COLUMBUS, Aug. 13 (AP)—A woman today filed a bail trover action in municipal court here to regain her false teeth.

Mrs. Mae Payne filed the petition against her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lottee Payne, asking for the return of "one lower plate of white false teeth, 14 in number, set in a pink base."

The teeth were lost in a scuffle between the two women which resulted in an assault and battery action in municipal court July 1. Mrs. Mae Payne was bound over to city court under $25 bond.

Says Candler Operates as A Dictator

Scott Candler, incumbent commissioner, has run DeKalb County as a "closed corporation" and the office should be decentralized, Wheat Williams said at Doraville community center Friday night.

Williams, opposition candidate to Candler's reelection, said DeKalb is the only one of 3,100 counties in the nation in which "one man owns complete dictatorial power and in which 32 different government functions are carried around in one head."

The candidate said Candler is a "68-year-old man in poor health who shouldn't be running again, but just can't give it up."

Williams charged that Candler is "bull-headed, determined, and set in his ways" and that after 16 years he "hasn't trained anyone in his organization to take his place." He added Candler "won't even let his own department heads function."

He charged that the grand jury situation in DeKalb "stinks" and that Candler has strangulated the city of Decatur, preventing it from growing to a population of 100,000. He termed "rumors" that Candler had paid his (Williams') entrance fee as "stupid and ridiculous."

"I am the only candidate who did pay his own entrance fee," Williams said. "The other two didn't. I paid that $3,000 out of my own pocket because I don't want to feel indebted to anybody."

Williams said Candler's bid for reelection is "wholly predicated on steak fries, fish fries, East Lake shindigs and big posters."

He urged the audience to "vote through your heads, not your stomachs."

DeKalb Orders an Inquest Into Cooker-Top Slaying

An inquest into the death of Lamar Henry Chastain, 42, a carpenter, who was bludgeoned to death in his home at 1125 Second Ave., will be held early next week, DeKalb County police said Friday.

Chief Investigator Brady Knight said Warren Rufus Williams, 40, a boarder in the Chastain home, was held on a murder charge pending the inquest, and Mrs. Elizabeth Chastain, mother of the victim, was detained as a material witness.

Mrs. Helen Chastain, who was married to Chastain six weeks ago, was questioned and released without charges Knight said.

The investigator said there was a wide variance in the reports given by Williams and Chastain's mother. He quoted Williams as saying he struck Chastain with the top of a pressure cooker when Chastain attacked his mother. He said Mrs. Chastain insisted she was not at home when the altercation took place.

Abram Pays Fine In Speeding Case

Morris B. Abram, Fifth District candidate for U.S. Representative, through his attorney Friday paid a $10 fine in traffic court on a charge of speeding 50 miles per hour in a 35-mile zone.

Court Bailiff Raymond Edmondson said it is customary to permit persons charged with the first offense in strictly ordinance cases to post collaterals instead of appearing in court. Osgood Williams, attorney, appeared for Abram.

Griffin Spells Program For Saving Resources

By JACK SPALDING
Constitution Staff Writer

BLACKSHEAR, Aug. 13—A program of development and conservation of Georgia's natural and human resources was outlined Friday by Marvin Griffin, and he hinted at dirty work within some of the state's authorities.

Making a bid for the unit votes of Brantley, Charlton and Pierce counties, the lieutenant governor spoke in the morning at Nahunta, in the early afternoon at Folkston and closed the day with a meeting in Blackshear.

Concerning the authorities, he said "some of them are not advertising for sealed bids and later on I'm going to take the hide off of them."

In this pine-and-pulp-mill country, Griffin praised the accomplishments of the State Forestry Department during the Talmadge administration. He said that if the work of the department "is permitted to continue," Georgia's income from forest products should soar to a billion dollars within 10 years.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS

Griffin pointed to the state's industrial progress in the last five years, and said that Georgia's forward march was based on "the conservation and development of great natural resources on one hand, and human resources on the other."

Friday he bore down on water resources. Industry, he said, comes to a place where there is an abundance of water. And for the farmers he remarked that irrigation is becoming more and more important, as drought years like this have proven.

The candidate promised to try to pave every post road and school bus route in the state through the medium of his proposed rural road authority. He said Georgia now spends around $8 million a year on a country road paving program, and at the present rate it will be 30 or 40 years before pavement leads to every mailbox and schoolhouse in the state.

JEERS AT CRITICS

Under the Griffin plan, the authority would sell revenue certificates, pave the roads in a hurry, and retire the certificates over a period of years. He jeered at his critics who said it can't be done, and who charge that "he wants to steal the Highway Department."

"Ride on 'em, enjoy 'em, and use 'em while paying for 'em," he said. "For we'll be paying a six-cent-a-gallon gas tax as long as we live."

He warned that the Atlanta newspapers are about to begin "a big smear campaign because I've got their backs to the wall," and accused the Atlanta press of wanting to "mix up children in schoolhouses."

He told his Blackshear audience that The Journal and Constitution were going to begin "the biggest smear campaign in the history of Georgia tomorrow or maybe Sunday. They are fighting me because they know I don't take my orders from them—don't call them and ask permission to do anything.

"They're down here fighting the Georgia way of life. If you don't believe it, read some of Ralph McGill's poppycock."

Son Will Direct Hailey's Race for Fulton Board

Fulton County Commissioner I. Gloer Hailey announced Friday the appointment of his son, Larry G. Hailey, as campaign manager in his bid for reelection in the Sept. 8 primary.

Campaign headquarters will be at Hailey's office, 1010 First Nationaly Bank Bldg. Telephone numbers there are AL. 3245 and WA. 6229.

The younger Hailey was graduated from the Emory University School of Law in June. He is a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity.

Politicking Employes Would Go---Thompson

By DERICK DANIELS
Constitution Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Ga., Aug. 13—M. E. Thompson, a far calmer candidate than he was Thursday when he assailed those who link him with liquor racketeers, warned Friday night he would fire any state employe who neglected his job to go politicking.

Thompson said that applied to all state employes, whether or not they are covered by the merit system.

The warning came after Thompson's speech in a question-and-answer session which he prefaced by a request for no questions that concerned personalities.

It was such a question-and-answer period Thursday at Warner Robins that led Thompson into a violent denial of support by former liquor czar John Horace Bowen.

Thompson was gentle in his references to his opponents. "They can't sleep at night, even in air-conditioned rooms," he said. "They roll and toss; they are confused and frantic. They know M. E. is the reason they can't win."

Thompson told the audience, which included a sizable Negro contingent, that he thought "99 per cent of Negroes want separate schools if they are equal."

Two or three Negroes clapped gently and an old Negro woman said "Amen."

"Did you hear those amens?" Thompson grinned.

Thompson promised more efficient tax collection and economical government in order to raise teachers' salaries and expand the State Department of Commerce to bring 632 new industries to Georgia in four years.

The candidate introduced his wife to the crowd with the remark that any day he expected to hear a rumor "that Ann is no longer with me. Well, here she is," he smiled.

Clyde Seawright Named Manager For Clark Gaines

Clyde Seawright, Hart County dairy farmer, has been oppointed campaign manager for Clark Gaines, candidate for commissioner of agriculture.

Seawright has taken charge of Gaines' campaign headquarters at the Georgian-Terrace Hotel.

He said Gaines plans to "enlarge and improve methods of storing, distributing and marketing Georgia farm products to increase the income not only of the farmers themselves but of Georgians in all walks of life."

Lilly Loo Is Lured To Lessons

By YOLANDE GWIN

Tommy and Lilly Loo are two very excited youngsters these days.

It's almost time for school.

"Oh, I know all about school," scoffed Tommy. "I went last year and this year I'll be in the first grade. Lilly is the one who will have to learn."

This was a six-year-old's voice of experience after kindergarten at the Clark Howell School. Next month this little Chinese boy will be in the first grade at the school.

His sister, Lilly, will be in Sara Spivey's kindergarten at the school for her first year.

"School will be all right," said Tommy, "but I'm more interested in cowboys and cap pistols than books or pencils and I'm more interested in studying about cowboys than anything else. Do you think we'll have history on the wild west?"

According to Miss Spivey, Tommy had a perfect record for attendance last year and his work was also top grade.

"Daddy brought me to school every day," said Tommy, "and he usually helps me with my homework. Mama doesn't speak English very well so she can't help much."

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Loo, who spend their work-days operating a laundry on Peachtree street, speak Chinese with their children. They have two younger ones, Betty, who is 27 months old, and Jimmie, who is just three weeks old.

And what does Lilly think about school?

"I haven't thought much, but Tommy says I'll like it just fine. So does Miss Sara," said the little girl.

Both Tommy and Lilly speak English very well. Chinese conversation is confined to home on Glenwood. Mrs. Loo, according to her son Tommy, is "picking up" English very fast.

"It doesn't matter, much," said Mr. Loo, "Chinese or English. Tommy gets his lessons fast. He is a smart boy. Lilly will learn fast, too. My children, they are very smart."

KITCHEN CHAOS

Bride's Biscuits Could Start Burning Issue

By BETTY CARROLLTON

If smoke gets in your eyes, it may be more than a cigarette burning.

And a bride's blackened biscuits aren't the only source of chaos in the kitchen.

Capt. J. F. Seagraves points out that a large number of fires in the home originate in the kitchen.

When answering a call to a smoke-filled home, a fireman's biggest job may be consoling the family cook whose baking was forgotten in the oven, but all too often careless kitchen techniques result in drastic harm to home and humans.

Under the stern eye of Capt. Seagraves, firemen of Atlanta Fire Station No. 28 demonstrated the way NOT TO operate in the kitchen.

When a pan of grease goes up in blazes, that in itself may not be too dangerous, but often the homemaker becomes excited and dashes water on the flames.

"That only makes bad matters worse," Capt. Seagraves points out, "a handful of baking soda will quickly extinguish the fire. Or a large lid put over the flames will smother them before a great deal of damage occurs."

Hanging clothes near lighted burners of a stove is inviting disaster.

"Mis-use of electricity frequently occurs in the kitchen area," Capt. Seagraves continues.

Over-loaded electric outlets will store up heat faster than greased lightening. Homemakers sometimes connect electric clocks, refrigerators, perculators and radios to a single outlet, not wired for such a heavy load.

"When an outlet is overloaded, the right size fuse will blow," Capt. Seagraves says, "and no fire will result.

"I've seen as many as nine extension cords on a single outlet, a very dangerous practice."

GLITTER AND GOLD EARRINGS GROW IN SIZE
Pat Hammond Models Rhinestone Earrings, Gold Version (Inset)

New Sparkle Eye Opener In Earrings

By JEAN THRASHER

The glitter and the gold gets in your hair.

A new earring style hits the jackpot on size and sparkle. A button attaches to the lobe—but that's just the small end of the story. A curve of gold or rhinestones sweeps back hair at the temples.

Ann Fogarty designed the eye-openers for ears. To go with whirly skirted but simple dresses the new custom costume glitter is guaranteed to keep conversation as bubbly as champagne.

The upper and lower parts of the earring are joined by a slender wire that hides behind the ear.

Gold earrings, tailored enough for town wear, are pairable with little top of the head hats. They sell for $7.50.

The rhinestone version of the new earring has glitter enough for several of average size. Price of gem-studded jewelry is $18.

Earrings are available in Atlanta. For shopping information call WAlnut 5050, extension 397, after Sunday.

THEN AND NOW

When I was a bride,
If I dented a fender,
I went home and cried
And my husband was tender.

But now it is different,
And I better watch out,
For one tiny scratch
Will make the man shout.

It's not that his love,
Through the years has abated,
But the prices on autos
Has greatly inflated!

Designer Lauds Black Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)—Stick to black and let colors fall where they may, is the advice designer Mollie Parnis gives to the woman puzzled about what to buy.

The designer called this fall and winter the most colorful fashion has seen in 20 years—with colors including tinted whites, clear blues, greens, red, pinks and the basic brown, gray and navy.

"If so much color dazzles you, just ignore it, and stick to black," said Miss Parnis "You're always sure in black."

Atlantans Plan Caribbean Trip

Miss Dorothy Smith, 911 Glen Arden Way, NE, and Miss Frances Wells, 710 Peachtree St., NE, will sail Saturday aboard the S.S. Alcoa Cavalier from New Orleans for a 16-day cruise in the Caribbean.

Their itinerary includes Jamaica, the Dominican Republic, Trinidad and Caracas and several other cities in Venezuela.

Atlantan Runner-Up To Olympic Champion

At the National Swimming and Diving Championships held Sunday in Indianapolis, Atlanta's Gail Benton became for the second time runner-up to Mrs. Patricia McCormick, Olympic champion, on the three-meter board. She was also fourth on the 33-foot platform, a feat accomplished after only 60 days of practice diving from that height.

After the meet, Gail left with the other three top divers in the United States, Mrs. McCormick, Joaquin Capilla and Gary Tobian, for a series of exhibitions which will take them to Kewlona, Vancouver, Seattle, Boise, Idaho, and other cities. The last of September she will enter Mexico City College where she will be able to dive all winter from an outdoor platform.

MR. AND MRS. A. D. ADAIR JR. left Friday to motor to Denver, Colo., where the former, a colonel in the Air Force Reserves, will attend Air Force School for two weeks.

JUST BACK from a 10-day stay at the Highlands Country Club at Highlands, N.C., are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collier. Returning on Saturday from Highlands are Mr. and Mrs. Horace Powell who spent the past two weeks at the club.

LEAVING SATURDAY for a motor trip of several weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chapman, who plan to visit Williamsburg, Va., Washington, D.C., and New York City where they will be guests for several days at the Waldorf-Astoria. Later they will go to Canada, returning by way of Chicago. Mrs. Chapman is the former Anne Osborn.

CLAUDE GRIFFIN JR., who has spent the past three years in Casablanca, Morocco, has arrived for a month's visit to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Claude Griffin, at 28 Brookhaven Dr.

MISS HAYES McMILLEN will return Saturday from Camp Juliette Low at Cloudland where she spent the past several weeks. Her brother, Earl McMillen Jr., who has been enrolled at McCallie Summer School, Chattanooga, will return home Monday.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT HALLOCK will spend the weekend in Valley Head, Ala., and will be accompanied home by their son, Bobby, who has been enrolled at Cloudmont Camp there for the summer.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT J. TAYLOR III and their son, Bob, and Mr. and Mrs. George Harris and their children, Linda and George Jr., will return Saturday from Jacksonville Beach where they have had a cottage for two weeks.

MR. AND MRS. RALPH A. HUIE and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Whitman are enjoying a Western trip. They spent last weekend at Jasper Park Lodge in Jasper National Park, Alberta, Canada.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! Increasing domestic pressures and demands made to other people may call for changes or termination of present living patterns.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Possible early tensions can ease under wise recreational plans for weekend.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Clear away domestic obligations then plan evening of pleasant relaxation with younger friends.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). The urge to be on the go can be satisfied now perhaps with a trip.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Tie up financial loose ends early; don't leave them loose!

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22). Give in graciously this time as the tide is against you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). After wrestling with inner problems turn to practical job at hand with decisions to cooperate thoroughly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22). Don't let social attractions consume too much energy as weekend wears on.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21). If you get serious business out of way early, then you can enjoy later hours of recreation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Early tensions could mar transportation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Get the budget decided upon first then you can enjoy relief from tensions in neighborhood activities.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). After a get-together of opposing interests you could celebrate with a little spending.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Early moods can vanish as you emerge into limelight and make your personality felt over weekend.

Juelich Trial To Be Sought Outside State

Herbert Juelich's attorney said Friday he will seek a change of venue so that Juelich's retrial on charges of slaying a U.S. deputy marshal can be held outside Georgia.

The retrial was ordered by the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans which held that Juelich did not receive a fair trial in Rome last December and reversed his conviction.

The attorney, Frank Gleason of Rossville, said he wanted to pick a place for the rial outside the sphere of Georgia press, radio and television influence to give Juelich "an impartial trial."

Juelich was sentenced in U.S. District Court to die on Dec. 30 for the slaying, near Adairsville, of 54-year-old Sam Vaughn of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Gleason said he thought 25-year-old Juelich should be retried outside the state of Georgia and as soon as possible.

Linder Vows To Shed Light at Jesup Rally

By JIM PINSON
Constitution Staff Writer

NASHVILLE, Aug. 13—Agriculture Commissioner Tom Linder, regarded by some political prophets as a "dark horse" in the gubernatorial race, promised south Georgia crowds Friday that he will throw some light on the campaign.

He told cheering listeners at Ashburn and Nashville that he will lay the facts on the line when he addresses a Jesup rally and state-wide radio audience at noon Saturday.

Linder, whose stump-speaking pace has been far shy of that of the other major candidates, served notice that his campaign tempo will be stepped up.

"It's fodder-pulling time," he said. "Politics in Georgia don't get hot 'til fodder-pulling time."

At Jesup Saturday, Linder said he planned to "take the record down and clean up what some people think is funny politics in Georgia this year."

"And I'll have something new to tell you every week until election," the commissioner promised.

"NO RUNOVER"

The veteran state official told a good crowd at this Berrien County seat not to believe rumors about a runover.

"There is not going to be any runover this year," he insisted. "There never has been a runover in Georgia when you have a man on the ticket who is running all over the state."

Linder recalled that the only Georgia gubernatorial runover occurred in 1930 when none of the candidates waged state-wide campaigns. Richard B. Russell was the winner.

NEW PLANK

Speaking to tobacco farmers hard hit by drought, Linder added a new plank to his platform at Nashville. He said he favored eliminating sales tax on farm machinery purchased to irrigate parched land.

He also went on record as favoring the awarding of more state contracts to counties for road building so that available convict labor may be used. Many counties could not operate without "county contracts" from the state, he claimed.

As for the 8,000 convicts in the state, he pointed out that the road work would "keep them in the sunshine and fresh air where they are much more healthy."

FREE MILK

Other Linder promises included free milk for children in the first three grades of school, dollar license tags for veterans, tax exemptions for disabled veterans and expansion of state farmers' markets.

"We will build a transfer market in Washington, D.C.," he said, "so we can take the surplus off the local market and move it to a great center of population."

Linder spoke at Ashburn on the lawn of the Turner County courthouse and at Nashville to a crowd on the courthouse square.

Mid-Ga. Gas Hearing Set For Dec. 1

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Federal Power Commission today announced postponement from Aug. 16 to Dec. 1 of a rehearing here on a proposal by Mid-Georgia Natural Gas Co., Atlanta, to supply natural gas to five Georgia communities.

The commission authorized Mid-Georgia last December, to serve the five communities, including Covington. Covington later was granted rehearing.

The commission said the hearing delay, the second allowed, was granted upon the request of the company.

Legion Post No. 1 Installs Patterson

Atlanta's American Legion Post No. 1 has installed W. N. (Pat) Patterson as its commander, succeeding J. Grady Shankle.

He is a World War II veteran of the Eighth Air Force.

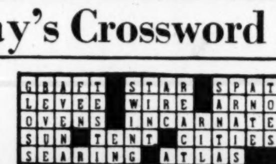

J. C. Tanksley was installed first vice commander; Jack Shuford, second vice commander; J. O. Baker, third vice commander; O. B. Cawthon, adjutant; Margaret Giles, finance officer; the Rev. Wendell Mixon, chaplain; William M. Mason, historian; J. B. Chambers, member of the Board of Governors.

Installed as members of the executive committee were Shankle, A. J. DeCristina, James L. Smith, John Sledge and Dr. C. R. F. Beall.

13th Goes All Wrong On Right of Way

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 13 (AP)—It was an unlucky Friday the 13th for wine-loving citizens of Strasbourg. A loaded tank car was derailed in the station and spilled 3,200 gallons of red wine on the tracks before anyone could so much as bring a glass.

Men Candidates Ashamed, Mrs. Thomas Tells Voters

The woman candidate in the race for governor said Friday the male candidates are "ashamed of themselves."

Mrs. Grace Thomas, who called herself "just a good citizen—not a politician," said the other gubernatorial candidates have "let up" in their race hatred and mud-slinging speeches.

"They're a little ashamed of some of the things they have been saying," Mrs. Thomas said in addressing the Atlanta Veterans Luncheon Club at the Belmont Steak House.

Mrs. Thomas, who remarked that Gov. Talmadge "has made us a mighty fine governor," insisted all the men now seeking the governor's office "are cut from the same bolt of cloth."

"They all have practically the same platform—defiance of the Supreme Court and the U.S. Constitution," she declared.

She said rumors that she had been "put in the race" by Gov. Talmadge and Marvin Griffin to "split somebody's vote" was not true.

"The only reason I'm running," she said, "is to give the voters an opportunity to vote for a candidate pledged to uphold the courts of this nation."

Mrs. Thomas also pledged she would fight communism, improve rural roads, increase assistance to the aged, create a water commission to plan irrigation for farm lands, expand health services, increase teacher pay and provide better education "for all children."

What used to be the late President Roosevelt's "Shangri-La" has been thoroughly overhauled. Now known as Camp David, it has new guest cottages and other additions.

A tangled array of mountain foliage has been smoothed over to make an elevated tee stand which is about a 50-yard shot to a well-tended green.

French, Reds Ready To Ink PW Treaty

HANOI, Aug. 13 (AP)—French and Communist officials were reported ready today to sign an agreement on the exchange of war prisoners, to start early next week.

The most famous captive of the war in Indochina, Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, commander at Dien Bien Phu, was among the thousands of men to be exchanged.

French officials expected the Dien Bien Phu prisoners to be among the last released by the Communists, and De Castries to be among the last of that group. The Reds held Maj. Gen. William F. Dean until the end of the Korean exchange.

French sources said the exchange of all prisoners, both soldiers and civilian internees, should be finished by the end of August.

Back Candidates for Ruling, Negroes Ask

A committee of 100 Atlanta Negroes has issued a statement calling on Georgians to repudiate any candidate who proposes to defy the Supreme Court segregation ruling or who uses appeals to racial prejudice. The committee is headed by Dr. L. D. Riddick, chief librarian at Atlanta University.

Of the nine candidates for governor, all but Mrs. Thomas have proposed some means of circumventing the court's decision outlawing public school segregation.
